Long Muscle Shoals Fight Looms in Senate

SOLONS TO FOCUS ATTENTION TODAY ON SHOALS LEASE

Controversy Becomes Dominant Issue As Subject Comes Up for Action on Wednesday.

LONG, AIMLESS DEBATE MAY BE PREVENTED

Ford Asked If He Would Be Willing To Take Project Under Offer Made Last Year.

Washington, December 2.—The Muscle Shoals problem, which has been the subject of controversy for years, has become for the time being the dominant issue before congress. It comes up by unanimous consent in the senate tomorrow for action, and tonight it appeared the subject may be debated for several days. Later, it is probable that an entirely new proposal may be submitted with the backing of the administration.

President Coolidge is known to favor the appointment of a commission to study the whole subject and submit a plan of action. It is regarded as highly probable that sufficient votes can be mustered to carry out his idea.

As the situation stands tonight, there will be three outstanding contenders seeking the privilege of settling the Muscle Shoals issue. Chairman Norris, of the senate agriculture committee, is prepared to press the Norris bill which was reported by the committee at the last session. Senator Underwood, democrat, Alabama, will lead a fight for a bill he introduced today to fill the breach caused by the withdrawal of Henry Ford's offer.

Georgia Senator's Plan. Then there will be the administration plan, which probably will be sponsored by Senator Curtis, republican floor leader. A similar proposal was advanced yesterday in the house in a joint resolution introduced by Representative Wright, democrat, Georgia.

Senator Wadsworth, republican, New York, is prepared if the opportunity arises to support the Hocker-White-Alterbury profit sharing proposal, which has been for some time before Secretary Weeks. There is, too, the possibility that Henry Ford may be brought back into the field of bidders through the request made to him today by Senators Heflin, Alabama, and McCallister, Tennessee, democrat.

When the subject is called up tomorrow, it is planned to offer the Norris bill as a substitute to the house bill authorizing acceptance of Ford's offer. If the Norris bill is received as a substitute, Senator Underwood is expected to offer his bill as a substitute to the Norris bill. This would bring the Underwood bill before the senate for first consideration.

Sensors Underwood and Norris both are prepared to discuss their bills in great detail, and each is un-

EGYPT ACCEPTS TERMS OF BRITISH

Cairo Is Quiet With Expectation of Activities of Students Who Are Demanding Revolution.

Cairo, Egypt, December 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—"The council of ministers, bowing to necessity and impelled by a great desire for pacification and good understanding accepts the conditions integrally and without reserve," is the reply which Zivir Pasha, the Egyptian premier, made to Viscount Allenby, when the British high commissioner enumerated in writing the British conditions for the evacuation of the Alexandria customs.

The customs had been seized as a guarantee for compliance with several of the British demands, which the Zaid government left behind for settlement when it went out of existence. The only signs of disturbances in Cairo have come from the students, who, notwithstanding the advice of the premier, have been engaged in political agitation, in which the cry of "revolution" has been set up frequently.

BRAZILIAN CONSUL ORDERED TO HALT PASSPORTS TO JAPS

Tokio, December 3.—The Brazilian consul has notified the Japanese government that he has been instructed to suspend the grant of visas for intending emigrants to Brazil. The foreign office, taken by surprise, has instructed the Japanese minister to Brazil to make a report on the matter immediately.

Mr. Akamatsu, chief of the immigration section of the foreign office, said "if this notice heralds an exclusion policy against Japanese, the situation presents itself in a decidedly serious aspect to the Japanese nation."

FURTHER ECONOMY URGED BY COOLIDGE TO REDUCE TAXES

Surplus of Nearly $68,000,000 Indicated for This Year and Over $373,000,000 for 1925.

Washington, December 2.—President Coolidge informed congress today that present estimates point to a surplus of revenues over expenditures of $67,884,489 for the present fiscal year and of $373,743,714 for the fiscal year 1925, but he advised against any further tax reduction until definite results from the present tax law are known.

"If we continue the campaign for economy, we will have the way for a further reduction in taxes," the president said in a special message submitting the annual budget. "This reduction cannot be effected immediately. Before it is undertaken, we should know more definitely by actual operations what our revenues will be under our present tax law. But the knowledge of our revenue under the existing law will avail us nothing if we embark any new large expenditure program."

Calculations Borne Out. The president recalled his recommendation for a reduction in taxes and said that thus far in this fiscal year, previous calculations of the results had been borne out. He declared a revision of the estimates for 1925 showed that receipts for the current year should approximate $3,011,968,297 while the expenditures should not exceed $3,334,083,808, and compared with the estimates for the next fiscal year, transmitted in the budget showing probable receipts of $3,491,000,000 and a probable cash disbursement by the treasury of $3,267,551,378, which will include some funds appropriated, but not all expended, in the current year.

In analyzing the estimates submitted, the president said: "For the national defense, the estimates amount to $349,000,000, which is $29,000,000 less than the Total Campaign Contributions From All Sources Were $845,520.

Washington, December 2.—The democratic national committee filed today with the clerk of the house, a report showing total campaign contributions of $845,520 from July 1 to November 20, inclusive.

The committee also reported a loan of $120,000 from the New York Trust company, which made available for the campaign a total of $905,520. The report listed total expenditures for this period at $903,908, and showed a balance of $61,612. Contributions of more than $100 amounted to $835,902. The largest single contributor was John D. Ryan, of New York, who gave $35,000 in two installments of $25,000 each and one of $5,000.

Other large contributions included Thomas L. Chadbourne, New York, $5,000; Jesse H. Jones, Houston, Texas, $25,000; Mrs. Jesse H. Jones, Houston, Texas, $5,000; B. M. Baruch, New York, $25,000; Henry Morgenthau, New York, $21,000; C. W. Watson, Fairmont, W. Va., $15,000; James W. Gerard, New York, $10,000; Francis P. Garvan, New York, $10,000; H. H. Lehman, New York, $8,000; Clem L. Shaver, Washington, $7,500.

D. H. Heinemann, Charlotte, N. C., $5,000; Samuel Untermyer, New York, $5,000; Norman H. Davis, New York, $5,000; Cleveland H. Dodge, New York, $5,000; Edwin Corning, Albany, N. FEDERAL AID GIVEN TO STATES RAPPED IN BUDGET SPEECH

Coolidge Declares Efficiency of State Governments Is Impaired by Treasury Grants.

OPPOSES EXPANSION OF THESE SUBSIDIES

States, Counties and Cities Encouraged To Spend Money To Get Federal Appropriations.

BY MARK SULLIVAN. Washington, December 2.—President Coolidge's budget address alluded to one aspect of taxation that is giving much concern to thoughtful persons in Washington. His allusion was characteristically clear and forceful, and more will be heard of it. Some leaders believe it can be made the basis for an important change of trend in public affairs. President Coolidge said:

"For federal aid to states, the estimates provide in excess of $100,000,000. These subsidies are prescribed by law. I am convinced that the broadening of this field of activity is detrimental both to federal and state governments. Efficiency of federal operations is impaired, as their scope is unduly enlarged. Efficiency of state governments is impaired as they relinquish and turn over to the federal government responsibilities which are rightfully theirs. I am opposed to any expansion of these subsidies. My conviction is they can be curtailed with benefit to both the federal and state governments."

Three Per Cent of Budget.

The amount the federal government pays out to the states is great enough in itself. The sum of $100,000,000 is about 3 per cent of the total federal budget. But, as the president says, the effect of these grants to the states is worse than the amount of them. In nearly all cases, this money is given out to the states on the condition that the states themselves must specify amounts. Some of the money is given to the states to help build roads on condition that the states spend similar amounts. Some is given to the states to carry out various projects originated by the federal government, such as maternity care.

While President Coolidge spoke of these sums as "subsidies," some others speak of them by the stronger term of "bribes," meaning that they stimulate and induce the state governments to spend money and increase taxation by the state governments. When the federal government sent the governor of Maine $50,000 to spend on maternity care, the governor returned the check with a letter which is a classic on sound government. Massachusetts likewise refused this government grant, pointing out that for every one dollar the federal government sent into the state, it took out $18 in income taxes.

Stimulate Spending Money. Partly as a result of this stimulation by the federal government of expenditures by the state governments, the borrowing of money and the in-

DEATH OF BANKER ENTIRELY NATURAL

Unanimous Agreement Reached That California Financier Was Not Victim of Foul Play.

San Bernardino, Cal., December 2.—Unanimous agreement was reached tonight by authorities investigating the mysterious death of William R. Fee, the Alhambra banker, whose body was found a week ago in Lytle Creek canyon, that he died from natural causes.

George H. Johnson, district attorney, made the announcement of the findings at the conclusion of a conference at which were present J. Clarke Sellers, an internationally known criminologist; Sheriff W. A. Shay, and Deputy District Attorney M. O. Hertz.

The report of Dr. A. F. Wagner, autopsy surgeon, of Los Angeles county, on the second autopsy was made public. Dr. Wagner declared that Fee died from, or could have died from, "acute congestion of the left lung, with partial collapse of same, together with acute dilation of the heart." He said he was making his

Bold Bobbies' Baleful Necks
FAIR CUSTOMERS DEMAND FREE NECK SHAVES
Bankrupting Bashful Barbers

The Shingle-Box Is Not So Bad But a Fuzzy Neck Drives the Barbers Mad

BY KENNETH L. EAGON.

The futuristic baby who conceived the exotic idea of trimming the tresses of our fair sex so they can climb up and smile a union barber out of a week's pay, only has to turn over in his widely scouted mausoleum and Atlanta's tonsorial experts will pounce on him with boiling tar soap and exhume his remains in porcupine pie.

Are the city's capable neck-nippers peeved? No, they are not angry. They are way past that. They are rabid. And all over the bold bobbies' baleful necks.

And they are as helpless as the man who was going down in the river for the third time when his office boy cried out to him from the shore: "Come on, chief, cut out the kidding; you're wanted on the phone."

Here's the scandal in a few gasps: When the bob-hair craze swept the country a few years ago, barbers everywhere saw it coming that they were going to get a jam of feminine business. Some barbers in Atlanta stayed up late nights fixing things up pretty at their shops and advertising that bobs of all descriptions were dispensed on the inside. Others were reluctant to effuse over fallen locks, which were swept away in the rushing weeps of the shorn—for few chickens lost their feathers without staging a sob siesta.

Things grew from worse to awful to terrible. It was a triple-play that has the local barbers hanging on a shoestring.

And then came the much presaged straw that rent the hie of the prohibition animal.

WOMAN, 84, BURNS GRIMMETT DYING TO DEATH IN HOME OF AUTO INJURIES

Too Feeble to Make Cries Heard and Trapped She Perishes in Fire Near Senoia.

Senoia, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—Enveloped in flames and being too feeble to make her cries heard, Mrs. Cilla Culpepper, 84 years of age, was burned to death today in a fire that destroyed the home of her son, Dawson Culpepper, at Haralson, a town of about 100 people near here.

Mrs. Culpepper was the only person in the home at the time of the fire, which is thought to have caught from a defective fuse in the kitchen, where she was at the time of the fire. The fire had enveloped the kitchen before it was discovered and when persons rushed into the home to rescue Mrs. Culpepper, she could not be found. Her charred body was discovered in the ashes from the kitchen, after the fire.

She was one of the best known women of this section.

Coolidge Bars Private Car
GOVERNMENT IS SAVED MORE THAN $1,000

In Making Trip to Chicago

Washington, December 3.—The economy that President Coolidge preached in his budget message to congress, he will put into practice when he takes his trip to Chicago Wednesday. He will travel as a private citizen in a Pullman car state room, and not in a special private car as has been the custom with presidents.

This will mean a saving to the government of more than a thousand dollars. The president is provided with $25,000 a year for traveling expenses, but what is left over of this amount each year goes back into the treasury, and not to the president.

The cost of a private car from here to Chicago and return would be $1,850.50, railroad officials say. This compares with $171.12, which will be the actual cost of transportation, with a Pullman state room, for the president and Mrs. Coolidge, some time, according to The Daily Express.

Three or four other people are expected to go with the president, including his secretary and a stenographer, but the additional cost will not make the saving any less than $1,200

Atlanta hobbeses demand their necks maintained.

When they purchase a bob, they figure that the poor 8-hour salesman who unloaded the white elephant has taken on an interminable contract to keep the bob hitting on all cylinders, one four or eight, as may be the horsepower of the hobette.

Here's the crying-out-loud done Tuesday by a barber in one of the city's largest downtown hotels:

"We are worried to death by the bob-haired ladies who besiege us for free neck-shaves. Someone started this thing and, believe me, it has grown in proportion until half our time is spent in shaving the necks of short-haired women."

And you may believe this or not, but scores of bob-heads stalk us whom we have never laid eyes on before they take their turn and when they climb into the chair, exclaim: 'Just shave the neck, if you please,' and when they get down on the floor again, they smile and coo: 'Oh, thank you. Well, goodbye, I'll see you later.'"

And something has got to be done. The writer called on head barbers at other hotels. It was the same thing. The ladies never mention paying for this neck-shave. Most of them are as free from tips as a freight train from cushions. And barbers are working their own hair white.

Another barber vowed that the only solution he could see was that the city barbers line up together and post placards in their respective shops, calling attention to the inaction of the churches. He will be followed by Dr. H. C. Tucker, of Rio de Janeiro; Professor Julius H. Richter, of Berlin, and the Rev. Adolph Keller, of Zurich, Switzerland.

Arthur H. Hungerford, of Washington, accompanied by his wife and secretary, were among the first to arrive, finding quarters at the new Henry Grady hotel. Mr. Hungerford is the official press and publicity representative of the national organization.

In charge of the committee securing homes for the confinement of the delegates, Mrs. S. F. Boykin reported that she had completed her work and that everything was in readiness for the arrival of the delegates. Those who cannot be cared for in local hotels will be quartered

SENATE PASSES BIG MONEY BILL

Senator Underwood Introduces Measure To Dedicate Muscle Shoals to Defense of Nation.

Washington, December 2.—Congressional machinery functioned smoothly again today and a fair volume of work was accomplished in the hour the two houses were in session.

The senate finally put on its way to the president the $180,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill, which came over from the last session, and which carries the first $126,000,000 necessary to get the soldiers' bonus law into operation.

The house received the first of the annual supply bills, that for the interior department, and set aside its routine procedure to give the measure right of way until its passage, probably by the end of this week.

Both houses received and listened to the reading of the president's annual budget message. Tomorrow they will get the chief executive's

CHURCH LEADERS OF NATION GATHER IN ATLANTA TODAY

Prohibition, Japanese Question, War, and World League To Be Discussed by Council.

FOREIGN DELEGATES EXPECTED THURSDAY

Japanese Problem Will Be Discussed by Representative of Council in That Country.

Prohibition, war, the Japanese question and the world league are the four leading issues to be discussed at the fifth quadrennial meeting of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, which convenes in Atlanta for a seven-days' session at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Central Presbyterian church.

Only a few delegates from scattered localities throughout the United States had checked in at Atlanta hotels Tuesday night, the vanguard of the visitors being due early today.

The foreign delegates, including dignitaries from Japan, Egypt and many other foreign countries, are not expected to arrive until sometime Thursday.

Missionary work throughout the world and important Protestant religious movements to be promulgated will be threshed out at the meeting.

Japanese Problem.

Dr. A. K. Reschauer, of Tokio, official representative of the National Christian Council of Japan, will lead the discussion of the Japanese problem. His first brief message is on the program for the opening day.

There will be messages from all foreign countries where allied organizations of the federal council have been formed. These will follow immediately after the address of welcome delivered by Dr. H. C. Tucker, of Emory university, who will welcome the 500 or more delegates representing more than 20,000,000 church people of the country.

The list of speakers includes Sir Willoughby Dickinson, of London, leader of World Alliance for International Friendship Through the Churches. He will be followed by Dr. H. C. Tucker, of Rio de Janeiro; Professor Julius H. Richter, of Berlin, and the Rev. Adolph Keller, of Zurich, Switzerland.

Arthur H. Hungerford, of Washington, accompanied by his wife and secretary, were among the first to arrive, finding quarters at the new Henry Grady hotel. Mr. Hungerford is the official press and publicity representative of the national organization.

NEARLY $10,000,000 IN DRINKS SHIPPED HERE FROM CANADA

Ottawa, Dec. 2.—More than 3,000,000 gallons of ale and beer and 298,813 gallons of whisky went out of Canada to the United States during the last 12 months, according to a trade bulletin issued today by the Dominion Bureau of statistics. The total value of these beverages is listed at $9,834,705, of which $4,700,000 is given as the valuation of the whisky.

The bulletin reported that the liquor traffic with the United States is increasing, as in the previous twelve months only 144,184 gallons of whisky were sent across the border and only about 2,000,000 gallons of ale and beer. According to the statistics, 49,041 gallons of whisky went into the United States last month and during October $128,000 worth of ales, beers and whiskies.

SALE OF TANLAC MAY BRING CHANGE IN HEADQUARTERS

Offices May Be Moved to Eastern City—Lynch to Devote Time to Florida Realty Developments.

New York, December 2.—(Special.) Acquisition by a group of New York and Boston bankers of International Proprietaries, Inc., the S. A. Lynch concern which manufactures Tanlac, probably will mean that the distributing and sales organization, now located in Atlanta, will be moved to an eastern city.

This fact was indicated here tonight when the Atlanta capitalist described for The Constitution bureau, details of the $25,000,000 deal just consummated, by which B. O. Baker & Company, of Boston, and E. J. Pond & Vivian, of New York, gained possession of Mr. Lynch's block of 288,000 shares of stock in International Proprietaries, amounting to 90 per cent of the entire issue.

Will Enlarge Scope. The new owners of Tanlac expect to enlarge the scope of the company and to market a number of other medicine products, it is learned, and the distribution organizations will be transferred to the east. The main factory will remain at Dayton, Ohio, it is understood.

Mr. Lynch told The Constitution bureau of the big transaction tonight just following the departure of his new palatial yacht, "The Luneta," for Florida waters. Mr. Lynch is expected to follow it in a few days and spend the winter on his magnificent vessel, for which he paid approximately $100,000.

Grand Lodge of Order To Discuss Tonight Advisability of Membership.

"Mother, shoot me the briar: I want to give my soul some solace." "I'm using the briar myself, daughter-o-mine; better nail that corn on the mantelpiece before your younger sister comes home from school."

"All right, mother dear; say nother, this cob tastes like father had been giving it an outing."

"You can't trust the men, Antoinette. Throw your smoke screen in the pantry. The walls need kalsomin-ing bad."

The foregoing repartee between mother and daughter may occur in any Atlanta home if the Grand Lodge of the National Order of Pipe Smokers votes to issue charters for women's lodges at the annual meeting of that organization, to be held at 7:45 o'clock tonight in the assembly room in the Chamber of Commerce.

At this time, the advisability of taking women into the pipe-smokers' fold will be seriously discussed and it is said that there are several women's organizations which would be in line for immediate franchises.

The National Order of Pipe Smokers was founded in Atlanta January 17, 1923, with six members. Now it has several thousand members and is growing continually and substantially. There are many subordinate lodges in every big city in the union. Its motto, "Tolerance and Peace," has spread to Europe, where lodges have been chartered from Atlanta.

CLAIMS ASSAILANT KILLED HIS WIFE, THEN STRUCK HIM

Woman Was Drugged, Then Hit With Hammer; Relations With Husband Were Peaceful.

NEITHER OF CHILDREN AWAKENED BY CRIME

Telephone Wires to Residence of Birmingham Physician Cut Before Attack Was Made.

Birmingham, Ala., December 2.—Dr. George T. Edwards, prominent Birmingham physician, was under arrest tonight charged with chloroforming his wife and beating her to death with a hammer.

Mrs. Edwards was drugged and slain while asleep in her home in Fairfield, fashionable suburb, early Tuesday morning.

Dr. Edwards, his left hand shattered with a revolver wound, is lying in a local hospital, a police guard standing over him.

The physician claims he and his wife were attacked by an unknown murderer, and his story was at first given credence by the authorities.

Version of Doctor. According to his version of the tragedy, Mrs. Edwards was drugged and beaten to death by an intruder, who sought to dispose of the physician in a similar manner. Edwards awoke as the drug was being applied to himself and grappled with the murderer, whose gun was discharged in the struggle, the bullet hitting the doctor in the left hand.

Authorities discounted the physician's story after a 12-hour investigation and declared tonight that the killing was "an inside job."

Bits of tell-tale evidence left in the wake of the tragic slaying were woven together by the officers into a case against the physician, who is now accused of murdering his wife and framing up an elaborate alibi to cover up the crime.

Two Bottles Full Evidence. Two bottles, half empty, of a sleep-producing drug were found on the floor of the slain woman's bedroom. Officers said the phials had disappeared before the murder from the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company's hospital, where Edwards was a staff physician.

The authorities charged also there was nothing to indicate that any one had broken into the house, as claimed by Dr. Edwards. A slit in the screen, through which the murderer was supposed to have inserted his hand to open a window, was not large enough for this purpose, they said.

A bullet, which was back door was further evidence uncovered by the officers to discredit the physician's story. This indicated, they said, that the door was not ajar when the intruder fired, the doctor claiming he fired three shots at the murderer as he ran through an open doorway in the rear of the house.

It was also pointed out by the authorities that had the crime been committed by a murderer, it is not likely

TAX ASSESSORS DEFEND OFFICE

Reports that they are financially interested in the contract between the city and H. E. Parker, who has been employed to place on the tax books returns have not been submitted, were denounced as untrue by the three city tax collectors Tuesday.

These reports were aired during a fight in council on the Parker contract, and are referred to as "slandering insinuations" in the following letter, written Mayor Walter Sims by the tax collectors, W. A. Hancock, J. C. Little and H. M. Perkinson:

Letter to Mayor,
Hon. W. A. Sims, Mayor,
City Hall, City.

Dear Sir: Mention of the tax assessors in connection with the contract put proposed contracts with special tax investigators does this office a very great injustice.

To have associated this office in any way with the contract put proposed contracts with special tax investigators does this office a very great injustice. The facts, in so far as our office is concerned, are as follows:

The contract between the city and Mr. Parker, which was under discussion yesterday in council, was considered and recommended by the tax committee and passed by council and Mr. Parker appeared at the tax office for duty. In fact, neither of the tax assessors either knew personally, or had ever heard of Mr. Parker before he appeared at the tax office under the contract which council had made.

This office has consistently, at all times, been opposed to the employment of tax investigators on a commission basis for the purpose of undertaking to uncover personal property that has escaped taxation. We have so stated this position to every member of city council when opportunity offered. Our position has been, and is now, that investigators with proposition that should be employed on a salary basis to locate and place this property on the tax books, during the current year in which the tax should be collected.

Second, this office opposed the present Whidden contract, which is the only contract ever submitted to us for consideration. After we expressed our firm disapproval, it was notwithstanding awarded to Mr. Whidden. We are still of the opinion that the contract is bad and out, and have so stated, both from the fact that it is conducted on a commission basis and also is our opinion it will cost the city several thousand dollars in revenue, since present indications are that the city will lose through the regular channels with far larger returns than now appears at all possible under Mr. Whidden.

Opposed Proposed Contract.
Third, as to the final proposed contract with Mr. Whidden, we were opposed to this and so expressed our opposition for the same reasons heretofore stated.

We desire to also make reference to a reported statement made before the tax committee at its last session, in our absence, to the effect that certain personal property values had previously been submitted to us by Mr. Collier, the present investigator, that we failed or refused to make assessment. We wish to say that such a statement is absolutely false and infamous in its nature and content, and such an accusation, in justice to us, its proven or that in justice to us, its fairness be admitted.

Since the motives of the individual members of the board of tax assessors have been brought into question, we feel that some individual responsibility should be fixed for such slanderous insinuations. We, as a board, have labored in honest effort to fix assessments on a basis that would equitate values, both in justice to the city as well as the taxpayer. This we have done under great disadvantage and with much abuse. We feel therefore, that if there is any living individual who can furnish you with any information that will lead to the discovery of the real source of this unwarranted defamation, it should be done without delay.

Respectfully submitting this for your personal attention, we are,
Very truly yours,
W. A. HANCOCK,
H. M. PERKINSON,
J. C. LITTLE.

TIMELY FEATURES IN XMAS NUMBER OF CITY BUILDER

The December issue of The City Builder is a work of art, presenting the story of Bethlehem in a most compelling fashion. The cover is drawn by Joseph Ness, with an insert prose poem by Platt Young.

Dr. Carter Helm Jones, pastor of the Second Baptist church, Atlanta, tells of "Christmas." Dr. Jones says: "It was the winter of the world's discontent. The place an obscure village in a remote province. Then a song, a child and a star, these three. But the earth has never been the same and Bethlehem is the capital of the kingdom of childhood."

Platt Young writes on "Uncle Silas and Christmas"—a poem on the Yuletide. Dudley Glass tells of plans for Christmas at the Scottish Rite Hospital for Children.

Frank L. Stanton writes a Christmas poem in which his poetic gifts are at their best.

In "Atlanta Agricultural Dividends," H. G. Hastings sums up results of the year so far as the farming interests are concerned.

B. Roddenberry contributes an article on "Georgia Cane Syrup."

"Dairying, a Two Million Dollar Industry," is described by Dr. Milton Jarnagin, of Athens. A. T. McNeely writes about the Georgia Yarn company. "Tobacco as a Money Crop" is an engaging article by Martin V. Calvin. The symposium on "Atlanta's Greatest Need in 1925," already announced in The Constitution, is another feature of this issue.

Other leading articles are "The Luxe Train Service via Atlanta," by W. H. Fogg; "Lauren Foreman and G. B. Harris: Atlanta's Industrial Survey," by Fred Newell; "Dr. Joseph Jacobs—Lover of Burns," by Nancy Beasley; "An Old Organization with Young Ideas," by Kenneth Hayes; "Atlanta Joins Hands with the Peach Growers," by Louis D. Newton; "Advertising Atlanta," by Frederic J. Paxton; "Symphony Concert in Atlanta," by Nana Tucker, and others.

Robert F. Maddox, chairman of the board of the Atlanta Lowry National bank, is the subject of the regular department, "The Regular City Builder," written by Platt Young.

WITNESS DROPS
STAND IN COURT

Grant Bradley, negro, dropped dead in Fulton county superior court Monday as he stepped from the witness stand after having given testimony which resulted in exoneration of another negro, J. R. Elder, charged with shooting at another.

Bradley was the only witness for the defense and apparently was in good health as he testified his testimony on the stand. As he stepped from the stand he crumpled and fell. Physicians hurried to him and pronounced him dead from heart failure. The dramatic death occurred in the courtroom of Judge J. R. Fortson, of Athens, presiding in the absence of Judge G. H. Howard.

CHRISTMAS BOOZE AND AUTOMOBILE IN HANDS OF LAW

Caught in the act of delivering 12 quarts of Scotch whisky at a residence on Ponce de Leon avenue, according to federal officers, Harry Cohen, 30, of 204 Capitol avenue, was arrested Tuesday and his car and automobile and liquor confiscated.

Cohen, shortly after his arrest, was given a preliminary hearing before United States Commissioner Colquhoun and held to the federal grand jury under $500 bond on a charge of violating the national prohibition law. He posted bond. Officers who participated in the arrest were Federal Prohibition Agents Whitely and Smith.

CLUB BOYS OF HANCOCK MAKE LARGE YIELDS

Sparta, Ga., December 2.—(Special.) County Agent S. D. Truitt has just given out the yearly report on his cotton, pig and poultry club members of the county.

In his report 83 poultry club members reported out of 104; 27 pig club members out of 32; 38 cotton club members out of 42; 41 corn club members out of 68. The boys of the pig club have also made enviable records with many fine porkers, which they will slaughter this fall.

In the cotton club the total amount grown by the boys was 29,969 pounds of seed cotton, averaging 900 pounds to the boy, the highest field, 1,500 pounds on one acre, being made by Morgan Driskell. The boys cleared a net profit of $1,226.50 on their cotton.

In the corn club the boys grew a total of 1,244 bushels, averaging 31 1-10 bushels to the boy, or acre. They cleared a net profit of $983. This makes a total of $2,209.58 which the boys cleared on the cotton and corn they grew this year. This is considered by farmers in this county as being a magnificent showing, and the boys, as well as their county agent, are receiving congratulations.

Plans are already started to have bigger and better clubs next year. Great interest is being manifested in Hancock county in this work, nearly 300 members being enrolled this year.

FIRST METHODIST SOCIAL POSTPONED

On account of a death in the congregation of the First Methodist church the Sunday school and church social scheduled for Friday night has been postponed indefinitely, according to Judge Walter T. Colquhoun, superintendent of the Sunday school. The affair may be held after the Christmas holidays.

GOODELL MEETINGS TO BEGIN THURSDAY

Special musical programs will be presented at the C. L. Goodell meetings to be held at 12:15 o'clock each afternoon, beginning Thursday in connection with the convention of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, which opens here today. The Goodell rallies are to be held in the Forsyth theater and are for the benefit of business people who will be unable to attend the regular meetings of the council.

Dr. Goodell will deliver a short sermon at each meeting and the following musical programs have been announced: Thursday, selections by Mrs. James H. Whitten, contralto soloist of Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church; Friday, numbers by Mrs. S. A. Johnson, soprano soloist of Ponce de Leon Avenue Methodist church; Saturday, numbers by Clarence Wall, tenor soloist of the Second Baptist church, and Monday, selections by Mrs. Harold N. Cooledge, contralto soloist of the North Avenue Presbyterian church.

SUMMERALL FUNERAL HELD IN BLACKSHEAR

Waycross, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—Funeral services for Judge J. I. Summerall, of the superior court of the Waycross circuit, who fell dead Sunday in the pulpit of the Baptist church at Telford, near here, where he was conducting the morning service, was held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the First Baptist church of this city, Rev. W. H. Rich conducting.

The body was carried to Blackshear following the service here, where final services were held by Masons at the grave. Blackshear was the boyhood home of Judge Summerall.

Long before the hour set for the funeral the First Baptist church here was crowded with hundreds of friends and former associates of the late judge.

The pulpit was banked with floral offerings sent from all sections of the state.

Atlanta Association of Credit Men will be held at 12:30 o'clock today in the green room of the Henry Grady hotel. A special program has been arranged for the meeting.

IMMENSE CROWDS VISIT ART DISPLAY

BY RALPH T. JONES.

Crowds which began the pilgrimage Monday night to the roof of the Ansley hotel to view the great exhibition of commercial art showing there this week continued to patronize the fascinating showing all day Tuesday and it already is evident to those responsible for bringing this $100,000 exhibition to the city that their most optimistic dreams of success are going to be realized.

Commercial art has found its greatest development in America through the development of business science and the art of advertising in this country. As a result the greatest of living artists have been attracted to

A high percentage OF TUBERCULOUS PATIENTS GET WELL in El Paso,

SOME communities hesitate to make the advantages they offer in the treatment of tuberculosis known.

El Paso people are not that sort. We know that many—sometimes seemingly incurable people—get completely well in El Paso, and we are proud of it. Several of us in the Gateway Club came here because of tuberculosis and we are now well. We realize how much it means to those afflicted with this malady to live in an atmosphere of good will and cheer, as well as dry air and sunshine. We, in El Paso, do our best to see that they get both kinds of "medicine." Perhaps that is one reason why a high percentage of tuberculosis patients get well completely and speedily in El Paso, the Gateway City to Health.

Let us send you our new booklet, "Filling the Sunshine Prescription," endorsed by the El Paso County Medical Society. It contains concise and useful information about our climate, our sanatoriums and our city. Mail the coupon below.

this phase of their profession and some of the finest examples of the work of brush and pen are to be found in the collection now being shown here.

It is a peculiarly fascinating thing to study, one after another, the great paintings from which printed and lithographed reproductions with which we are familiar as advertisements, were made. Side by side you see, for instance, a painting by Norman Rockwell, of an old man, paint brush and pot in hand, retouching the paint on the side of an old car and the advertisement for a certain advertised brand of paint for which the picture was used.

There are scores of such examples in exhibits at the Ansley. The greatest advertising firms and advertising agencies from all over the country have sent their work and most valuable properties to be shown here, with the result that this is a real exhibition, a very worth-while gallery of the paintings of men and women who rank high in their profession.

The exhibition will continue through this week, including Sunday. It is open morning, afternoon and night. There is no admission charge. Business men in every line of commercial activity are visiting galleries in groups, for it is hard to discover the line of business which is not vitally interested in advertising. Paintings by Atlanta and Fulton county school children, entrants in a prize competition recently concluded, are shown. There is a series of 12 paintings from the National Safety council and a score or more of other exhibits of unique interest.

Go and see it for yourself. Stand before two reproductions of the same painting and tell which is the original work in oil and which the lithographed copy. If you can do it without a close study of the two you need not worry about the condition of your eyesight for many months to come.

Several distinguished artists are in the city for the exhibition, including James Montague Lacey, Elmer M. Jackson, who spent several hours inspecting the paintings shown on Tuesday morning.

Deep cream or tan is an excellent background color for the nursery walls and the wall paper dealer can show you any number of charming nursery borders and cut-outs depicting children, animals and circus parades to make a decorative frieze.

Keese Appointed Howard Theater Musical Director

Taking effect immediately, Alex Keese, associate conductor, has been appointed musical director of the Howard Theater Symphony orchestra, the post left vacant by the death of the late Buel B. Risinger. It was announced Tuesday by Harold B. Franklin, director of theater for the Famous Players-Lasky corporation, of New York.

Mr. Keese, who was born in south Georgia, is a well-known figure in musical circles, having gained his musical education under Professor

ALEX KEESE

Joseph O'Carroll, president of the O'Carroll Musical academy, of Chattanooga. Mr. Keese for some time was assistant conductor of the orchestra at the magnificent Fivolt theater in Chattanooga, coming to Atlanta as assistant director at the Howard under Enrico Lory.

When Mr. Risinger became director of the Howard orchestra, Mr. Keese remained at his post of assistant conductor, and during the illness of Mr. Risinger took over the directorship and ably arranged the musical programs. It was as a result of his untiring efforts that the orchestra received his appointment by Mr. Franklin.

Recently Mr. Keese acquired the musical library of the late Mr. G. H. Glue, well-known musical director of New York, whom Atlantans will remember as having conducted several big concerts in this city years ago. The library is regarded as one of the largest and best selected in the south, and contains all overtures and symphonies known in the musical world. Howard Price Kingsmore, director of the Howard theater, in commenting on the appointment of Mr. Keese, stated that he had the utmost confidence in his ability.

VALUABLE GAUGES PLACED ON DISPLAY AT NEW BILTMORE

An exhibition of Johansson gauges, accepted by the world as the standard of measurement, opened at the Biltmore Tuesday and will continue through Friday. The exhibition is under the auspices of the Ford Motor company, owners of the original gauges.

The exhibition is very instructive and educational, it is said, and of special interest to college engineering students.

The original set of Johansson gauges, containing 81 pieces, is valued at $20,000, and is on exhibition at the Biltmore. The gauges are true to one-millionth of an inch, it is said.

C. E. Johansson, of Eskilstuna, Sweden, produced the first set of gauges in 1897, after more than four years of labor, it is claimed. Not until 1911, however, was he able, with the assistance of the Ford Motor company, to produce them on a commercial scale.

Johansson was called to America at the outbreak of the world war to work on Liberty airplane engines, which at the time were capable of being used only 30 hours continuously. After working on the engines Johansson improved them to such an extent that they were able to run more than 130 hours at a time, it is said.

Johansson gauges are used extensively in the manufacture of automobiles and parts, but are adaptable to many other forms of industry, officials in charge of the exhibition point out.

Italy Agrees America Should Share Profits Under Plan of Dawes

Paris, December 2.—Italy has agreed to American participation in profits accruing to the allies under the Dawes plan, it was announced here Tuesday.

Japan also is understood to concur in the American right to participate in the Dawes proceeds. England remains the only allied power which has not agreed to a division of the spoils in such a manner that American claims may be met.

In the ability of the new musical director and declared that he could assure the public that the same high class musical programs offered in the past will be given in the future.

URGES SPANISH PRESS TO SUPPORT ALFONSO

Paris, December 2.—Admiral De Magaza, acting Spanish premier, recently summoned the editors of the Spanish newspapers, and appealed to them on the ground of patriotism to defend King Alfonso.

After announcing to the editors that a revolution was being planned abroad, the acting premier declared that the revolutionaries counted on the support of France, or rather the French government, which only represented a section, albeit the most numerous, of French opinion, and added:

"I do not ask you to attack France. I have called you together to ask you to defend the king, who represents the country. Attack us if you like, for the censorship will henceforth be less severe, but defend the king."

The editors were taken back by this pronouncement, according to Le Matin's account, and said nothing in reply except to bid Admiral De Magaza formal good day.

There are no evidences of approaching revolution in Spain, in the opinion of Count Romanone, former Spanish minister, as given in a statement to Excelsior.

"I do not believe for an instant in a revolution in Spain," he is quoted as saying, "for I do not see in the air any of those symptoms, those preliminary signs which might lead one to fear it."

On the question of the likelihood of a republic in Spain the former premier said:

"There are at the present moment many fewer republicans in Spain than at the beginning of the dictatorship, and yet I never heard so much talk about a republic as now."

As for his own attitude he declared he was an unwavering monarchist. "I would never serve an absolute monarchy," he continued, "but I will do all in my power to restore the constitution."

Count Romanone paid tribute to the ability and attainments of Vicente Blasco Ibañez, the novelist who has espoused the republican cause and who recently attacked King Alfonso, but said:

"Differences of political opinion ought never be led to personal judgments."

Chaplin's Bride, 16, Gave Age As 19 on Marriage Records

Los Angeles, Cal., December 2.—Mrs. Charles Chaplin, who until a few days ago was Lita Grey, the film comedian's leading woman, still is subject to California's compulsory school law, being but 16 years of age, the Los Angeles Times said today.

The Times based its statement on what was purported to be a photographic copy of a birth certificate filed with the bureau of vital statistics by Dr. E. O. Palmer on April 27, 1908.

That certificate revealed that Lillian Louise McMurry, daughter of Robert McMurry, expert accountant, and Lillian Curry McMurry, born in the Hollywood district April 15, 1908.

Chaplin "discovered" Lita Grey, as Lillian McMurry came to be known in filmdom, when she was 15 years old, the Times related, and signed her as his leading woman when she was 16, marrying her when she was still 16 and he 35 years of age, the article said.

19 On Marriage Record. Miss Grey's age appeared as 19 on the records of the Mexican town of Empalme, wherein she was married last week and was so stated several weeks before the marriage by Mrs. Lillian McMurry, her mother.

At the Selma Avenue public school here, however, and at the Cunnock School for Girls, both of which knew Miss Grey as a pupil, her birthdate was recorded as given in the birth certificate.

School authorities pointed out the compulsory attendance law requiring schooling for all children up to the age of 18 did not necessarily mean that Mrs. Chaplin would have to continue her education in a public or private school. The law provided, they explained, for the employment of tutors whenever the legal guardian of a minor preferred such instruction to that provided in the schools.

Sought out by newspapermen, Mrs. Spicer admitted her daughter's age had been incorrectly stated on the Mexican marriage license, but said it was done thus "for business reasons."

Business reasons also prompted the secrecy which surrounded the marriage preparations, she added.

"Yes, Not at Home." Neither Chaplin nor his bride could be interviewed, inquiring reporters invariably being met at the Chaplin front gate with a "yes, we are not at home" from a Japanese servant. The same servant made the same speech to Mrs. Spicer when she and her father, W. E. Curry, hurried to the Chaplin home after interviewers had found them and imparted the news.

Mr. Curry said: "Don't get the impression that Charlie and Lita were doing anything over on the family when she gave her age incorrectly."

"We noticed that as soon as we saw the notice of intention to marry which was posted several weeks ago, according to Mexican requirements."

"We consulted a Mexican attorney here, who told us the marriage would be illegal if the age were incorrectly stated, so we started down to Guaymas to have it changed, but found when we got there that the marriage was legal anyway."

Resuming her explanation, Mrs. Spicer asked: "What differences does it make if

SENATOR BUTLER FAILS TO GET COVETED SEAT

Washington, December 2.—William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, who, as chairman of the republican national committee, directed President Coolidge's campaign, has failed to obtain the place on the senate foreign relations' committee which he told some friends he would like to have.

Under the rules of seniority Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey, has been selected to fill the vacancy on that committee caused by the death of Senator Lodge.

Senator Butler has been assigned by the republican committee on committees to places on the judiciary and naval committees. Recommendations of the committee on committees will be submitted to a conference of senate republicans tomorrow for approval. They then will go to the senate.

Creeping Death Shadows HYSTERIA SEIZES ALLEGED YOUNG MURDERESS Shatter Calm of Woman

BY ROBERT D. LUSK.
New York, December 2.—The long months of uncertainty, the days and nights spent in the death house at Sing Sing, have taken their toll from the strength of Mrs. Anna Buzzi, on trial here for the second time for the murder of Fred Schneider, a wealthy Bronx contractor.

As the trial, which will decide whether the young woman shall go to the electric chair, from which she was saved last July by a reversal of her conviction of murder by the court of appeals, swung into its second day, William Turk, her brother-in-law, came to the stand.

He had just testified that after Schneider's body was found on a lowly Bronx road on the evening of February 26, 1923, Mrs. Buzzi confessed to him that she had killed her lover. Before the murder was committed, he testified, she had borrowed a pistol from him, saying "I am going to shoot Fred Schneider. If I can't have him, nobody can."

"You must stop," Justice Wasservogel shouted from the bench, but the crying hysteria hit the woman who spent nine months in a death cell waiting to be taken to the electric chair could not be stopped.

A recess was declared by Justice Wasservogel and Mrs. Buzzi was led from the room still shouting against the brother-in-law whose testimony might send her back to Sing Sing—perhaps to death.

During the recess Mrs. Buzzi gained control of her shattered nerves and Turk was again called to the stand as the court recessed for the afternoon.

Begged for Revival
Turk testified that Mrs. Buzzi had asked him for the revolver three times before he consented to let her have it and that she would not tell him why she wanted it. Turk is still held on $10,000 bail as a material witness.

Before Turk took the stand little of importance developed. It was noticeable, however, that a few of the state's attorneys were bit harsh on the witness they gave in the first trial, which ended in the conviction of Mrs. Buzzi on charges of first-degree murder.

It is this business that may help the defense in their task of building up an alibi based on the claim that Mrs. Buzzi was at home when the garbage man called somewhere near the time of the murder. Each minute that can be won from a witness through this inability to remember the exact time of the happenings on the February night will strengthen this alibi.

annual message on the state of the union, which will contain his recommendation for legislation.

With the opening day bar to the introduction of bills removed in the senate, quite a number of measures were presented there. Chief among them was that by Senator Underwood, democrat, Alabama, which would dedicate Muscle Shoals to the national defense and provide for either government or private operation for the production of nitrogen for fertilizer and explosives.

Another measure, offered by Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, would extend the life of the American debt funding commission two years from next February 1. A similar measure was offered yesterday in the house.

Thirty-eight millions of dollars for constructing new public buildings already authorized and also new ones on sites heretofore acquired would be made available under a bill proposed by Senator Fletcher, democrat, Florida.

Among the comparatively few measures introduced in the house was one by Representative Hudson, republican, Michigan, to repeal the excess taxes on automobiles and motorcycles.

Waycross, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—The Georgia conference of the A. M. E. church closed its annual session after five days of reports from individual churches, from various districts, presiding elders, pastors and from the Central Pastors' conference. Dr. J. Ross was transferred from the Brunswick and Blackshear districts to South Georgia conference. Dean W. G. Alexander was transferred to the original and central district. Atlanta; Dr. J. Coleman Lawrence to Central Park college; Presiding Elder Andrews, of the Macon district, goes to Monumental church, Savannah; Dr. R. L. Howell is returned to Gaines chapel, Waycross; Rev. Allen Cooper, Jr., to Douglas.

The conference was largely attended. Before reading the appointments Bishop Flipper referred to the progress made by the colored people of the south and spoke encouragingly of the impression made by the colored men of Waycross.

Sunday was a great day, beginning with the Sunday school and preaching at 11 o'clock in all the negro churches all day.

OF CHILD LABOR BILL
Washington, December 2.—An effort will be made by Senator Dial, democrat, South Carolina, to repeal the child labor law amendment to the constitution adopted at the last session of congress.

Senator Dial has prepared a joint resolution which he expects to introduce today, calling for the repeal of the proposed amendment.

A joint resolution was adopted at the last session authorizing an amendment to the constitution to restrict child labor. The amendment has never been made effective, awaiting ratification by three-fourths of the states.

Passage of the amendment was opposed by many southern senators, who claimed it would restrict southern industry.

M'NARY-HAUGEN BILL SUBSTITUTE IS DRAWN

Chicago, December 2.—The American Council of Agriculture, composed of representatives of various agricultural organizations working for the objective which was the goal of the McNary-Haugen bill, ended a two-day session here today with a general agreement to support a plan designed to take the place of the McNary-Haugen bill, defeated in the closing days of the last congress.

Representatives from 15 states and more than 40 farm organizations were in attendance. In substance, the new plan would retain the export of surplus and equalization features of the McNary-Haugen bill, supplementing them with an agricultural export corporation of 10 men, composed of the secretary of agriculture, the secretary of commerce, secretary of the treasury and 12 individuals to be appointed by the president, one from each of the 12 federal land-bank districts after nominations in each district by bona fide farmers, live stock and commodity marketing associations. The life of the corporation would extend to June 30, 1930.

The ratio price feature of the McNary-Haugen bill would be abandoned. The new plan which is to be drafted into a bill to be introduced during the present session of congress, embodies a simplification of the idea in the original bill and eliminates the price fixing and other features which proved objectionable to the last congress.

The legislative committee of the council was authorized to draft the proposed bill, after which it would be submitted for approval to the president's agricultural commission.

FAILS TO PREVENT FATHER'S BRAVERY DEATH OF CHILD
Celina, Tenn., December 2.—Heroism of a father unable to save a 2-year-old child from a burning building here last night when Mr. and Mrs. Harlin Lackey and another of their children sustained perhaps fatal injuries.

The infant's 5-year-old brother is believed dying, and physicians say the two parents probably will not recover.

The fire began early last night while the Lackey family were eating supper, presumably in a defective flue, and spread rapidly when Mr. Lackey, alarmed by the screams of his wife, hurried a kerosene lamp against a closed door. He had believed the door open, and the lamp burst, throwing oil over the floor and door.

The blazing oil spread rapidly over the floor, almost shutting off exit by the door. Mr. Lackey picked up his wife and carried her through the door.

He returned a few moments later, running through the blazing oil which had spread in front of the door to save the two children.

The younger child, frightened by the flames and smoke had crawled under his mother's body. The father made a desperate attempt to reach the boy, but the child crawled beyond his reach.

His clothing afire and almost overcome by heat and smoke Mr. Lackey seized the older boy, whose clothes also were ablaze, and dashed back through the blazing doorway. Neighbors helped him to extinguish his blazing clothes.

Chubby Hereford Steer Wins International Championship

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
Chicago, December 2.—Deacon, a chubby little white-faced Hereford steer, with pinkish eyes, glossy red hair, smooth body lines and an engaging presence, was crowned king of the 25th International Live Stock exposition, the world animal classic.

Youth was served, for Deacon, the entry of the Ken-Caryl ranch, Littleton, Colo., owned by John S. Shafter, newspaper publisher, will not be 11 months old until tomorrow. He weighed 990 pounds.

Tomorrow he will be sold at auction for beef, if he follows the footsteps of previous grand champions of the international. Expert cattlemen say he will make the finest beef ever tasted.

Angus Wins Second Prize.
The second high honors of the show went to Spark Plug, a grade Angus 2-year-old steer, entered by the Iowa State college farm. He won the grand championship for senior steers, but was forced to second place when he was challenged by the Hereford prodigy from Colorado.

The new wheat king of the world, named today in the international hay and grain division, is J. C. Mitchell, owner of a homesteaded quarter section at Dabinda, Saskatchewan. His exhibit was selected from 550 specimens from all parts of the United States and Canada. The Winnipeg sample, a bushel of hard red spring variety, gave Canada her 13th grand championship in the 14 years' history of the show.

Mitchell, whose victory today made him world champion for the third time in the last decade, took up a 160-acre homestead from the dominion government in 1907, when he left a cotton factory in Manchester, Eng., "to take up farming."

GOSSIPING PROVES TO FARMER'S WIFE TALK IS NOT CHEAP
Owensboro, Ky., December 2.—Mrs. Maude Basham, wife of a Davis county farmer, was fined $10 in police court today following conviction on a charge of having violated the state "anti-gossiping" act. Mrs. Basham, it was testified, had stated that the Owensboro police were "fifty-fifty with the bootleggers."

A law enacted by the last general assembly makes it a misdemeanor for any person to make false reports concerning any individual, officer or candidate for office.

Conviction carries a penalty of $10 to $100 fine and ten to 50 days in jail, or both.

MESSANGER IS MISSING WITH $60,000 IN BONDS
New York, December 2.—Stewart & Co., bond brokers, reported to the police today that a messenger boy named Harris, had disappeared yesterday with $60,000 in securities.

When the messenger was employed 10 days ago, he gave an address in uptown Manhattan. No one named Harris lived at such an address, ten-ants told police today.

London buses are to have spring seats.

WAGE HIKE IS GRANTED TO RAIL TELEGRAPHERS

Chicago, December 2.—Employees of the telegraph departments, excepting agents at non-telegraph stations, of the Atchafalaya, Topeka & Santa Fe Railway system and the Cincinnati, Indianapolis & Western Railway system tonight were granted wage increases of from one to three cents an hour by order of the railroad labor board.

Increases were denied employees of the same departments of the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Southern Pacific company, as well as agents at non-telegraph stations on all five lines.

The Southern Pacific company was denied the right of regrouping or altering its classes of employees and the employees of that line were denied the right to include ticket agents and certain assistant agents in the telegraph group.

The increases in wages will become effective as of November 18, 1924, and the changes in working rules will be dated from December 1, 1924.

15 Are Injured As Storm Tosses Giant Leviathan

New York, December 2.—Fifteen persons were injured in a storm which buffeted the steamship Leviathan throughout most of her passage across the Atlantic, it was learned today when the big liner arrived from Southampton 24 hours overdue.

The Leviathan, largest vessel in the United States merchant marine, suffered severely under the storm's lashings, reaching port with many of her port holes smashed and with considerable damage to her lower decks. Captain Herbert Hartley reported that he had kept the bridge throughout the entire trip with the exception of one night. It was the worst passage of his career, he said.

Painfully Injured.
R. H. Putnam, a Chicago retired business man on his way to Palm Beach with Mrs. Putnam, received serious head wounds on Thanksgiving day when a wave smashed the port hole of his E deck cabin and flooded the room. Mrs. Putnam suffered shock and both were treated by the ship's doctors.

A. E. Moran, the Leviathan's banker, broke his shoulder in attempting to avoid the crashing port hole of his cabin on F deck the same day. Jack Lawson, a Brooklyn, N. Y., armorer, was injured in a similar circumstance also on Thanksgiving day, when the big ship was fighting storms off the Grand Banks.

Three sailors later the same day were hurled down a companion way, two of them suffering broken arms and the third being badly bruised. Passengers in Great Britain and France, most of the players and members of their families took the storm as a matter of course, but "Red" Faber, Sox pitcher, did not leave his cabin once during the passage. "Stuffy" McInnis, Giant infielder, and Mrs. McInnis lost some clothing when the waves crashed in two of their cabin port holes.

Ball Players Aboard.
Aboard the Leviathan returned the members of the New York Giants—Chicago White Sox teams who played exhibition games in Great Britain and France. Most of the players and members of their families took the storm as a matter of course, but "Red" Faber, Sox pitcher, did not leave his cabin once during the passage. "Stuffy" McInnis, Giant infielder, and Mrs. McInnis lost some clothing when the waves crashed in two of their cabin port holes.

Manager John J. McGraw, of the Giants, said he did not deplore the financial failure of the series, as the trip proved an excellent missionary expedition. The finer points of the game were beyond the English and French, he said, but he was undaunted and intended to return next year.

Gales whipped the sea into 40-foot waves on Wednesday, increasing their fury on Thanksgiving.

On Friday and Saturday, off the Grand Banks, the Leviathan had to slow down. She logged only 341 miles Friday and 293 on Saturday. At times the wind whipped out of the north at a 100-mile-an-hour fury, with many waves breaking over the ship.

The liner Orduna also made port today from Hamburg by way of Bermuda, a storm-beaten ship. Her master reported that a three-hour snowstorm was encountered off the Maryland coast. It did not abate until the Orduna's decks were covered with a 6-inch fall of snow. So covered were the skies that the ship's lights were kept going throughout the day.

SCHOONER LASHED BY FURIOUS WAVES.
Norfolk, Va., December 2.—Latest reports indicate the only mishap during the recent bad weather off the coast was suffered by the schooner Henrietta Simmons, from Clarendon, Va., to New York, with a cargo of cord wood.

The vessel put to sea Saturday and after sailing about 100 miles was struck by the storm. Her sails were swept away and her deck load of lumber was washed overboard. Water entered her holds.

WHITLEY, NEW SPEAKER OF HOUSE OF COMMONS

London, December 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—The recently-elected British house of commons assembled this afternoon and unanimously elected John Henry Whitley as speaker. Whitley has been speaker of the house since April, 1921.

The election of Mr. Whitley followed the return of the members from the house of lords, where they had been called and elected by royal commission to "return to their meeting place and elect a speaker who should be presented at the bar of the house of lords tomorrow for his majesty's approbation."

The house of commons presented an animated appearance. There was insufficient space on the benches to accommodate all the members, many of whom had to stand back of the speaker's chair. Premier Baldwin and leaders of the various parties were cheered as they entered the chamber. The conservatives entirely filled the benches on the government's side of the house, the laborites occupied the opposition benches and the liberal party members sat below the gangway.

The house adjourned until tomorrow, at which time the swearing in of its 615 members will begin.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

A deficiency bill carrying $180,000,000 was passed by the senate.

Several scores of nominations were sent to the senate by President Coolidge.

Henry M. Dawes indicated he desired to resign as comptroller of the currency.

More hearings on the Mayfield election case were decided on by a senate committee.

President Coolidge held a second breakfast conference with republicans of the senate.

The interior department appropriation bill calling for $238,000,000 was reported to the senate.

Senator Underwood, democrat, Alabama, offered a new Muscle Shoals proposal, while some of his colleagues were endeavoring to revive Henry Ford's interest.

President Coolidge's budget message, and the budget, fixing $3,729,519,846.48 as the cost of running the government in the next fiscal year, were submitted to congress.

The democratic national committee reported to the house that common contributions, with a loan of $120,000, totalled $956,520, and expenditures amounted to $963,908 leaving a balance of $61,612.

BRITISH BANK WINS ROYAL BADGER CASE

London, December 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Justice Darling today returned judgment in favor of the Midland bank in the suit brought against the bank by Charles E. Robinson, former bookmaker.

Mr. Robinson sued to recover 125,000 pounds, which he alleged the bank owed him on account of a settlement with a "Mr. A," an unnamed Indian potentate, who had become intimate with his wife.

The bank asserted that the money was never received for Robinson and also alleged that the plaintiff was a party to a blackmail plot to obtain the money from the mysterious "Mr. A" and therefore was not entitled to recover. A jury was instructed to clear Mr. Robinson and his wife of the allegations that they were party to a conspiracy.

Paris, December 2.—James Charles Arthur, the former British army officer, arrested yesterday as the mysterious side-decamp of the unnamed Indian prince in the Robinson case in London, was still in the custody of the French police today. The British embassy has not received a warrant for his extradition.

Arthur says he is willing to waive extradition and accompany British detectives to London.

Madrid's American Society Deplores Reports of Unrest

Madrid, December 2.—The American society, of Madrid, composed of business men of the Spanish capital, at a meeting today adopted the following resolution:

"The society sincerely deprecates rumors and articles, which are entirely without foundation, frequently appearing in periodicals published outside of Spain, including the United States, which purport to portray a state of unrest, disorder and even open revolution in Spain."

ATLANTES ARE TOLD OF SCHOOL PROBLEMS

John T. Hancock, president of the board of education, addressed the luncheon meeting of the Atlanta Tuesday, outlining problems confronting the school board on account of the rapid growth of the city. Prior to 1920 pupils attending the public schools increased at the rate of 1,800 annually, from 1920 to 1924 the increase has been at the rate of almost 8,000 per year, he said. A musical program consisting of songs by Dr. Thomas G. Fowler, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Fowler, was a feature. E. B. Ray and H. Stacy Darrington had charge of the program. D. J. Meyerhardt, president of The Atlanta, announces appointment of the following committee to handle Christmas charity work for the club this month: Leonard Jacobus, chairman; Herbert H. Wagenhals, Gene Craig and Harold C. Woodfall.

BRONZE TABLET TO MARK HISTORIC CIVIL WAR SPOT

A bronze tablet, marking the spot where Confederate breastworks and rifle pits sheltered soldiers of the south during the civil war, will be unveiled on the campus of the Georgia Military academy, in College Park, at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, December 14.

SWINE GROWERS OF GEORGIA MEET
HERE NEXT YEAR

A live stock and agricultural congress will be held in Atlanta for three days, beginning January 12, by the Georgia Swine Growers' association, according to President H. B. Ralls, Jr. Plans for an extensive development program for 1925 will be discussed at the congress.

Delegates will make tours of inspection of Atlanta's live stock yards and packing houses, as a part of the program.

ATLANTA TO NAME
OFFICIALS TODAY

With all city officials virtually elected as a result of the September democratic primary, Atlantans will go to the polls today to confirm nominations of a mayor, nine heads of departments, three aldermen and 12 councilmen.

As none of the candidates has opposition, little interest has been evidenced in the election, and an extremely light vote is anticipated. Civic organizations, however, have urged the public to ratify results of the primary by balloting today, and all candidates also have urged their friends to vote.

Polls will open at 7 o'clock in the morning, and close at 7 at night.

List of Nominees.

Following are the nominees to be elected today:

Mayor—Walter A. Sims.
Aldermen—Dr. W. B. Duval, first ward; J. Allen Couch, fifth ward, and Carl Dolvin, tenth ward.

Councilmen—R. F. Pennington, first ward; C. D. Allen, second ward; Charles L. Chase, third ward; Dr. C. C. Knight, fourth ward; T. C. Morris, fifth ward; Harry York, sixth ward; Willie L. Moore, seventh ward; Frank H. Reynolds, eighth ward; C. D. Knight, ninth ward; W. Garland Cooper, tenth ward; W. E. Saunders, twelfth ward.

Chief of Construction—W. A. Hansell.
City Engineer—W. H. Johnson.
City Marshal—W. E. Harwell.
City Attorney—James L. Mayson.
City Comptroller—B. Graham West.
City Electrician—Robert Turner.
City Building Inspector—C. J. Bowen.
City Treasurer—J. H. Swing, Jr.

Eleventh Ward—(a), 98 Flat Shoals avenue; (b), East Atlanta bank.
Twelfth Ward—(a), Fleming's store; (b), Kirkwood pharmacy.

Commission Hears Pleas for Paroles
In Short Meeting

Two cases of more than passing interest came before the Georgia prison commission Tuesday in the regular rdn of applications for commutation of sentence from prisoners now serving in the state penitentiary.

I. B. Hall, of Tift county, now serving a life sentence for the slaying of Dennis Hall, in Tifton, in 1913, was represented by Attorney R. L. Smith, of Tifton. Argument was made that the defendant had already received sufficient punishment for the crime committed and that his family needed his support. The prisoner's wife and six children were present at the hearing.

Two years after Hall began serving his sentence he escaped from the Dodge county jail and went to Florida. There he was not suspected and for seven years lived the life of a respected citizen of his community, it is said. His daughter, however, became engaged to marry and Hall, thinking it not just to his prospective son-in-law to keep his secret from him, told the youth the story of his crime, conviction and escape. The young man promptly informed authorities, with the result that Hall was brought back to Georgia and has now served over a year more of his sentence.

D. B. Brannen, of Bibb county, also asked parole. He has served nine years of a life sentence for murder, and is a young man in the prime of life. He was in Macon when he fired a gun at random when under the influence of whisky, it is claimed.

Brannen was represented before the commission by Clements & Clements, of Macon. Among prominent citizens who are supporting the plea for clemency are Sheriff Hicks, of Bibb county; Justice H. A. Matthews, who presided at Brannen's trial; the late John P. Ross, solicitor general of the Bibb county at that time; Mayor R. L. Williams, of Macon, and others.

The commission did not make known its decision in either case.

BRANNAN CREDITED WITH MAKING MACON DRY.

Macon, Ga., December 2.—D. B. ("Doc") Brannen, serving a life sentence for murder and for whom the prison commission today heard a plea for parole, is the man credited with making Macon absolutely dry in 1914.

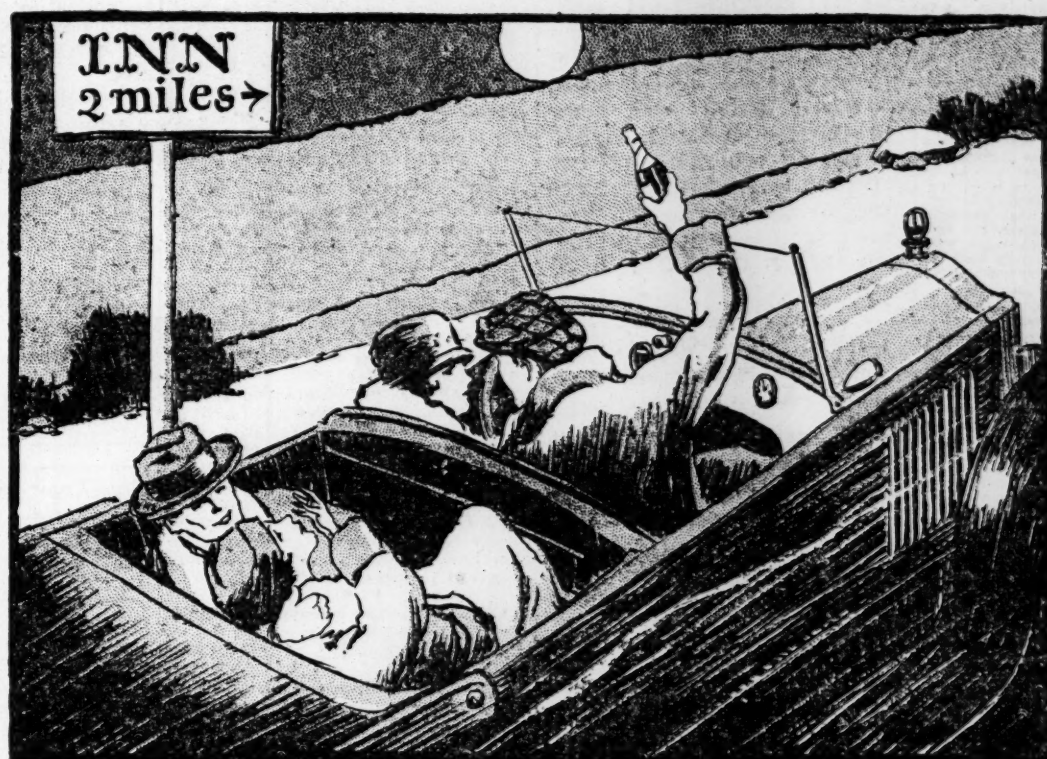

Brannen drove away from a near-by saloon on the night of the shooting seated in the rear of an automobile. His ride took him into the residential district and as he rode Brannen shot right and left. Miss Ethel Eubanks, prominent in church work, was on her way home from a downtown store where she was employed, when she was struck and killed by one of the bullets.

The whole city rose up against the sale of illicit liquor. Saloon-keepers joined in the movement and cooperated with other citizens in clamping on the lid, so that for some time before the bone-dry law went into effect Macon was the driest city in Georgia.

NO SUPERSEDEAS WRIT FOR FAHY AND MURRAY

Chicago, December 2.—The federal circuit court of appeals today denied the appeal of counsel for William J. Fahy and James Murray, under 25-year sentences of the Rondon $2,000,000 mail robbery, for a writ of superseadeas. The court granted a writ of error, which will permit review of the case by the court of appeals early next spring, but bail was refused and the men must start serving their sentences, it was ordered.

Fahy, a former postal inspector, and Murray, a politician, were the only ones of the mail robbers to stand trial. The others, the four Newtons, Brent Glasscock and Bert Holliday will be sentenced Saturday on their pleas of guilty.

REBELLIOUS
YOUTH!Today—it's a wise Parent who knows his own Child

YOUR sons, your daughters and their friends, boys and girls of high school age, everywhere, are indulging in an orgy of revolt against the accepted order of things.

In place of your ideas and ideals, they have substituted theirs—ideas and ideals as far removed from yours as yours are from Tut-anh-amen. Your codes are codes of twenty years ago. Youth has found them insufficient for a generation raised on automobiles, aeroplanes, movies, radio, so they have made new ones—and they have not consulted you about it. You are slow, youth flies with this age of speed.

Life has speeded up. Youth has kept pace. You and your generation have stood still. To their way of thinking you are an old foggy sitting on the sidelines. Youth is in the saddle, but it has not yet learned to control its fiery steed. Youth, intoxicated with the heady wine of independence, is riding to a fall that will shake this nation to its very foundations if it is not checked in time.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey tells you the facts

Denver is a typical American city. The people of Denver are very much like people everywhere. Though Judge Lindsey thinks they are better, the youth of Denver are neither better nor worse than the youth of New York, Chicago, San Diego or Painted Post, and you may be sure that what is going on among the youth of Denver is going on in exactly the same degree right here at home.

Already the revolt of youth in Denver, which is like the revolt of youth everywhere, threatens changes in our social and family life. The exact details of the manner in which they are questioning the institution of marriage and our social code may surprise you, but you cannot doubt their truth nor blind your eyes to their significance. They come from no less an authority than Judge Ben Lindsey, who knows what he is talking about.

Regarding his source of information, Judge Lindsey, for twenty-five years Judge of the Juvenile Court of Denver, Colo., says, "I am in constant confidential touch with scores of boys and girls of high school age; they tell me things; and they don't stop with themselves. They tell me about others like themselves who need my help; and I can follow the thread from case to case at any time as far as I may have the time and physical strength to go, and still it travels on and on. From any ordinary case, selected at random, I can uncover a thousand."

Why Children fear to tell their parents

A sweet and beautiful high school girl from one of Denver's most respected families summed up the attitude of youth toward parents and teachers thus: "You see, Judge," she said, after freely admitting acts that would have sent her parents into nervous breakdown, "they don't know much about us. They think they do, but they don't, and it wouldn't do to tell them I wouldn't have them know for the world what I have been telling you because all the kids would get expelled!"

"Don't you think they might help you?" he inquired.

"Help!" she exclaimed with unutterable scorn in her voice. "Help nothing! Why if they found it out, we'd be just ruined!"

So serious does he consider the situation, so imperative the need for an immediate awakening of parents and teachers to the social and moral change that is fast being brought about, that he has written a series of articles that will shock you into a realization of the truth.

Facts from actual cases

He deals in facts, facts and more facts. While never revealing a single identity, he quotes real cases. You cannot doubt the unbelievable things he shows you because the proof is there too plain, too positive to be denied.

But he goes further. He does more than paint a picture. He points out the remedy—explains the methods that he himself has developed during twenty-five years of dealing with rebellious youth, methods that have been gloriously successful, that have made him loved and trusted by the youth of an entire city, and his name a household word throughout the country.

As a parent, a teacher, a responsible citizen, you owe it to yourself, to your children, to posterity to read "The Revolt of Modern Youth," by Judge Ben B. Lindsey, and to do your part in restoring the equilibrium which must be restored if calamity is to be averted.

It is the privilege of Physical Culture to place Judge Ben B. Lindsey's great series before you—the handwriting on the wall that will warn a nation. "The Revolt of Modern Youth" begins in the December issue, now on the newsstands.

There Is No Transportation Problem

When Congress convenes this week, it will consider many issues more deserving of serious discussion than the various bills affecting the rail transportation lines of the Nation. "The Transportation Problem" has always been a subject for political harranguing, but, during the past two years, while stump speakers and radical editors have been talking and writing—the railroads have been solving the so-called problem.

Look at the figures for yourself—during the week that ended October 25, 1924 more than one million one hundred thousand loaded freight cars were handled by the railroads of the United States (1,112,345)—the greatest tonnage ever handled in their history.

If you are neither a shipper nor a receiver of freight, ask some of your friends who are in business whether or not the railroads are doing their part towards increasing prosperity.

Congress should give the "Transportation Act" a fair test and the railroads should not be annoyed by useless changing of rules and regulations governing their operation.

CORRECTLY EXPRESSED.

Mark Sullivan, formerly editor of Collier's Weekly and one of the most dependable political analysts and commentators in the United States, had the following to say in his Washington dispatch of Monday, following the reconvening of congress, as published in Tuesday's Constitution:

"There will be no program of embarrassing the republicans by a combination of democratic and La Follette senators. That program of cooperation with La Follette was followed by the democrats last year; and on that performance the democrats lay much of the blame for the present state."

There is not an unbiased student of the political history of the United States during the several months of the "long session" of the 68th congress—the same congress that met Monday for its final short session—who will not verify to the letter
Mr. Sullivan's unequivocal statement that a democratic-La Follette alliance in the winter and spring of 1923-24 was responsible to a large extent for the present prostration of the democratic party.

La Follette had his plans made for the 1924 campaign two years ago, following the 1922 election.

The democrats fell into his trap and helped him along. The consequences were when he launched his third party movement concretely at Cleveland on July 4 he had, by his senate policy of inveigling democratic cooperation, a whip hand over the democrats.

In the election he received 4,000-000 votes in round numbers. It has been conservatively estimated that fully 3,000,000 of them were democratic votes. The old-line republicans stood like a brick wall.
The alliance that he had forced in the senate split the democrats into two distinct factions, and the defection sacrificed the party.

La Follette, abetted by the movement to tie the party to western radicalism, helped to crucify the democratic party. There is no mistake about it, and no one unbiased, who has analyzed the situation, will say otherwise.

Mark Sullivan says there will be no program from now on for embarrassing the republicans "by a combination of democratic and La Follette senators." It is to be hoped this is true. It would be ghoulish to intensify the humiliation of defeat by flirting any longer with La Follette's discredited group; or with the western radicalism for which it stands.

The democratic party must become again, as it always was until captured by western opportunists, the leader in governmental thought, and not the follower. It has followed to its prostration long enough.

And it is the duty of the democratic south to lead it away from newly-made "friends" who would prostitute it for selfish purposes.

DON'T BE MISLED.

The season of cold weather visiting the south at this time may lead a cotton farmer in Georgia or Carolina, and especially along the Piedmont ridge, where the cold has been put the most, to believe that it will put an end to the carry-over boll weevils, the infestation from which is heavier than ever before. Such an erroneous impression, if such exists, will be most costly to the farmers unless corrected.

By applying a reasonable amount of common-sense reasoning it will be seen at a glance that a cold spell this late in the fall—or early winter, as it is now—only serves to drive the weevils into hibernation; and due to the late fall, through which they have multiplied by the million and remained out to feed, they go into hibernation in a condition of unusually strong vitality, prepared to live through any reasonably cold winter without the slightest impairment to their ability to emerge strong and healthy in the spring.

It will take a winter temperature of around 12 to 15 degrees above zero, continuous for several days, to destroy the weevils when once they have found their warm winter homes in the burs, under dead grass, in stumps, fence corners and adjoining woodland.

The fact that the weevils have finally been driven into hibernation several weeks later this year than usual simply means they will have to remain in that many weeks less time than usual, hence will emerge stronger than usual.

The present cold weather does no harm to the weevil, but if the farmers form a mistaken idea, it will result in much distress among cotton planters next year.

Destroy, burn, clean up the hibernating haunts. Destroy the winter weevil. That is the most important work before the cotton farmer today.

THE BUDGET SITUATION.

Coincident with the submission to congress Tuesday—of the federal budget for the fiscal year 1925-26, together with the president's earnest plea for "a continuation of an economy program," the house passed the second deficiency apporportionment bill amounting to $180,000-000.

The various deficiency bills before the session is over will approximate possibly a half billion dollars—or as much money as congress appropriated all told a few years ago to cover all of its activities, including new postoffices and buildings and rivers and harbors improvements, all of which have been sadly neglected since 1916.

But the point is—why the deficiency bills? The explanation is the budget commission in a spirit of economy prepares estimates as low as the various departments can possibly get along with, but the departments immediately set about to exceed, in their expenditures, the amounts provided on the hypothesis that congress will take care of the deficits in an omnibus deficiency bill. It has been doing this. It continues to do it, and hence the real value of the budget system, in so far as organized economy is concerned, is destroyed. It is this custom that congress has fallen into that is wrong and ought to be so severely criticized that it will be stopped. Leaders in congress have encouraged it during or immediately preceding election years for political reasons purely.

On the face of the budget, and the original supply bills, they would go before the people with an economy record to lure voters, knowing at the same time that at the short term of congress, after elections, these alleged economy figures would be wiped off the slate by deficiency bills. It is a process of deception that is senseless, and wholly indefensible.

Congress is confronted today with the task of enacting the supply bills for the next fiscal year, and yet it is appropriating huge sums of money for the current fiscal year that were not included in the bills for 1924-25 when they were passed at the close of the 67th session.

In the president's fiscal message Tuesday, which was not his regular message, and which will be read in both houses today, he sees an excess of revenues over expenditures for 1925-26 of $67,000,000. He urges further economies, and very correctly so in the light of the past records.

If the departments are permitted to exceed their budgets in 1925-26 as they have in 1924-25, instead of a surplus the treasury will face a deficit of some $400,000,000 during the next fiscal year—despite the surplus that looms up through the mist.

A budget system is useless unless the disbursements are rigidly fashioned to it.

Ernest Elmo Calkins, celebrated advertising expert, says: "One great underlying principle which has not yet been abrogated or superseded is that the great power of advertising lies in its persistency, in its continuity, and that, no matter how you do it, or what your pet talking point, or copy appeal or keynote, you must keep right on doing it, day after day, every day. There are no short cuts, or royal roads, or northwest passages, to the promised land of increased sales, and advertising, like any other living thing, like a bank, or a bay tree, or a baby elephant, is subject to the laws of growth—every little added to what you've got makes just a little more."

The man who seems to be having an easy time of it may have an acid in the paper that's working for him.

As to the alleged "joke" about the cross-word puzzle, the distracted tollers at the problem can't see where the joke comes in.

Correct Road Information Is Work of Motor Club

Editor Constitution: Referring to editorial in The Constitution of the 27th inst., re reports of the information in Atlanta, we have been very much aware for some months of the inaccurate road information given motorists, and in an attempt to overcome it we have compiled accurate information for our members, sending them out each week to the headquarters of all of the northern motor clubs as well as to the American Automobile Association with which the Atlanta Motor club is affiliated.
These reports have also been broadcast by radio each Friday evening for slightly over two years, and, we believe, have been helpful in bringing some few tourists through our city. The information from which these reports are prepared is sent to us each week by the state highway departments and we receive reports from many motor clubs in the same territory. These reports, together with the information given to us by travelers, are the basis of our report and is about as complete and accurate as can be obtained.

We realize that the mere notice and broadcasting of these reports is but a part of the work to bring to Atlanta a fair share of the tourist trade, and we have supplemented this by personal letters to northern clubs. However, this information is naturally discounted on receipt of telegraphic reports mentioned in my letter to Mr. Stone, and as a result hundreds of tourists are routed away from Atlanta before anything can be done to counteract the report.

Please understand that the Atlanta Motor club is fully alive to the situation and has been ever since its organization, for this is no new thing—and has been exerting every effort to overcome the trouble. We have asked, appeal and assistance for this very vital matter time and time again and have received "go to it, you are doing good work."

To our way of thinking, this is a matter in which every business and civic or-

CONSPIRACY TRIAL SHIFTS TO CLAIMS

Chicago, December 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—Government counsel today shifted the testimony in the conspiracy trial of Colonel Charles R. Forbes and John W. Thompson, a St. Louis contractor, from veterans' hospital contracts to the Guthrie case. Thompson, since 1919, had been suing in the court of claims for $800,000 more than the government paid him for the salvaged steamer Guthrie, raised from the Mississippi river, at Baton Rouge, La., declaring that the government's $700,000 award was insufficient.

Then government counsel took turns in reading a review of the case sent by Thompson to Forbes for the information of the Los Angeles counsel and several thousand words of depositions in the case.

Mortimer testified that Thompson offered $100,000 for a settlement of his $800,000 claim, which was to be divided between Mortimer, Forbes and Cramer.

The original of the telegrams to San Francisco which were addressed to Mortimer, according to his testimony, were among the papers taken from his home in Washington by Colonel Forbes and Mrs. Mortimer.

Reverting to the hospital contract conspiracy charge, Mortimer said Forbes told Thompson, his business associate, James W. Black, and Charles P. Hurler, a Seattle contractor, that he would let the bids personally and no other contractors than Forbes' friends would be allowed to bid.

Contracts Involved.

Mortimer said Forbes told them that the veterans' bureau would build a hospital at St. Cloud, Minn., and Hurler suggested that A. H. Stem, a St. Paul architect, be engaged to draw the plans. Forbes agreed to see Stem about it. Mortimer testified that the contract for the hospital at Livermore, Cal., also was to be let only to friends of Forbes, Mortimer said.

The government opened its testimony today with Daniel A. Gerber, of New York, president of the Northeastern Construction company, who the stand, to permit Mr. Gerber to return to his business in the east. He described his bid on the Northampton, Mass., hospital, founded and its rejection by the veterans' bureau because he would not cut the time of construction from 120 to 60 days. His bid of $133,000 was $24,000 lower than the bid of the Pontiac Construction company, of Detroit, it was shown, but the Pontiac company offered to do the work in 60 days and got the contract.

Mr. Gerber was closely questioned about the time he was invited to bid and the time he was invited to bid was to be built at Northampton.

"Leak" Is Charged.

It is one of the government's charges that Forbes gave Thompson and Black advance information on the bids chosen by the government for the veterans' hospitals, and that the contract, through Mortimer's testimony, was to be given to the Pontiac company in preference to other bidders. It is charged that Black and Thompson controlled the Pontiac company.

The testimony of Mortimer is expected to find most of the third day of the trial tomorrow, much of the testimony today being occupied with the reading of long documents to the jury and identification of the telegrams by Miss Kiser.

Interior Supply Bill

TOTALS $238,000,000

Washington, December 2.—A total of $238,000,000 or $31,000,000 less than the amount made available last year was carried in the interior department supply bill as reported today to the house. First of the appropriation bills to receive committee approval, its figures were well under the budget estimate.

Outstanding differences from the bill passed last year are reductions of $25,500,000 for army and navy pensions, made possible by a shrinkage in the number of pensioners; $4,300,000 for the reclamation service; $1,000,000 for the Indian service and $800,000 under the general land office. An increase of $172,000 was shown for the Alaskan railroad.

The bill would carry out recommendations of the interior department for abolition of the office of surveyor general and consolidation of his work with the field surveying service, a change which would directly result in an estimated saving of $250,000. Also call for the abolition of 39 land offices and do away with the position of receiver at the remaining offices, at an estimated saving of $250,000.

Among the land offices which would be abolished next July 1, under the bill is one at Jackson, Miss.

The bill carries $199,085,000 for the pension office; $11,882,270 for the bureau of Indian affairs; $8,943,000 for the reclamation bureau; $3,187,640 for the national park service; $2,400,000 for the patent office; $2,383,500 for the general land office; $1,908,637 for the government in territories and the Alaska railroad; $1,881,560 for the bureau of mines; $1,687,700 for the geological bureau; and $734,495 for the bureau of education.

Birmingham, Ala., December 2.—John Milton, a negro convict, was sentenced to hang by a jury here today on a charge of slaying Madelon Collins, seven-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blaney Collins. The child was being held in her mother's arms at the time. An axe was used by the negro, according to testimony. Mrs. Collins was badly injured by the assailant.

Milton was a trusty at a convict camp at the time of the attack on August 8. He escaped but was later captured in Ohio. He denied the charges against him.

DUBLIN SCOFFS AT CRISIS RUMOR

Dublin, December 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—A current report that the free state cabinet will resign and hand over the government to Eamon de Valera and his supporters in the event of certain developments in connection with the Irish boundary commission is ridiculed in well informed free state circles.

The Dublin newspapers today contain advertisements inviting representations in writing from public bodies, associations or individuals on the subject of the boundary, these announcements being similar to those simultaneously made public in Ulster.

The free state government has appointed counsel to state its case to the commission, the appointees including the attorney general and Sergeant Hanna, the widely-known Belfast lawyer. The statements of the interested bodies are to be laid before the commission not later than December 31. Thereafter the commission will sit in Ireland and receive evidence.

The free state's desire in connection with the boundary settlement, it has been set forth in Irish quarters, is to have considerable sections of what now is southern Ulster, declared to contain a big preponderance of residents, sympathetic with the free state, turned over to southern Ireland. Ulster, on the other hand, has contended that the most the commission can rightfully do is to make minor adjustments of the boundary line.

TAX PUBLICATION UPHELD BY COURT

By the Associated Press.

Kansas, December 2.—Judicial decisions for alleged illegal publication of income tax returns against Walter S. Dicker, owner and editor of the Kansas City Journal Post, and Ralph Ellis, general managing editor, were quashed in federal court today by Judge Albert L. Reeves.

The court sustained the demurrers of the defendants holding that the publication of the returns, as construed by the government in prohibiting the publication of tax lists by newspapers, was in violation of the provisions of the constitution, which provides for freedom of the press.

The statute upon which the indictments were based, Judge Reeves said, makes it "unlawful for any person to print or publish in any manner not provided, any return or any part thereof, or source of income, profits, loss or expenditure appearing in any income return." The publication in question, he said, did not violate this provision, since the list from which publication was made was separate and apart from the return and may have been different from the return.

Judge Reeves said that if the amount paid could be construed as a part of an income tax, then it is exempt from the provisions of the penal statutes, because its publication is provided for in a measure by law in that it must be made available for public inspection.

Judge Reeves pointed out that the revenue law forbade any officer of the government making known any part of an income tax return, yet in another section made provision for opening to public inspection a list of the amounts paid. It would be strange, Judge Reeves said, if an interpretation more favorable to an officer could be made in practice than the same language in the same statute.

No comment on the decision was made by United States District Attorney C. C. Madison, who handled the case for the government, although a dispatch from Washington said the government was prepared to appeal the decision to the United States supreme court.

1,200 BAR TENDERS STRIKE IN DUBLIN FOR HIGHER WAGES

Dublin, December 2.—For the first time in history Dublin citizens must drink the murky waters of the River Liffey or go thirsty.

A bartenders' strike has caused 1,200 public houses to hang up their aprons in 700 public houses. The bartenders want higher wages and now most of Dublin wants a drink.

HIGH GRAIN PRICES TERMED 'ACCIDENTAL'

Chicago, December 2.—Better prices this year for wheat and corn were termed "accidental" and "incidental" resulting from adverse crop conditions here and abroad in an address today before the National Association of Commissioners, Secretaries and Departments of Agriculture at its annual meeting.

George W. Koyner, secretary of the association, declared that neglect of fundamentals has contributed to the crisis in which the farmer section finds himself today.

He recommended adoption of legislation pending in congress for the establishment of federal machinery for cooperative marketing.

MURDER IS CHARGED TO KANSAS HUSBAND

Kansas City, December 2.—A charge of first degree murder was today filed against George P. Bloodgood in connection with the slaying of his wife Sunday night. He was denied bail pending further investigation. Bloodgood told police that bandits had locked him in the basement of his home and killed his wife.

HOOVER GIVES OKAY TO FISH REGULATIONS

Washington, December 2.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover has signed the new regulations which will govern the fisheries of Alaska for the coming year, adopted after several conferences on points in Alaska and along the Pacific coast.

Fifty-five additional areas, chiefly in southeastern Alaska, are ordered closed for 1925, under the new regulations, besides the 12 areas in which fishing already is prohibited, in order to protect the salmon stocks and to the spawning grounds, so that an adequate supply of salmon may escape to maintain the run. Other local restrictions of various kinds are included in the new regulations.

Atlanta Tot Is Proud Winner MOTHER PRAISES PRIZE WON IN ONLY THREE DAYS Of "Little Miss Georgia" Doll

Here's a happy little Atlanta girl—happy because she's won a "Little Miss Georgia" doll in the Constitution's great free Christmas toy offer. She is 3-year-old Louise Hunter, of 172 Ormond street, and she's not much larger than her magnificent prize.

With Santa Claus' annual visit only a few weeks distant, many a youthful heart is beating high with anticipation. But it's safe to assert that no child south of the Mason-Dixon line is looking forward with greater pleasure to the Christmas season than 3-year-old Louise Hunter, of the 172 Ormond street, Atlanta.

"Little Miss Hunter is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hunter, and she's one of the fortunate winners of the Constitution's great offer of 'Little Miss Georgia' wonder dolls.

Louise has been formally presented with her doll, and her mother states that she can hardly wait for Christmas to come when "Little Miss Georgia" will be taken out of her wrappings and given to Louise. "We are all delighted with 'Little Miss Georgia,'" Mrs. Hunter stated, "and Louise especially is just bubbling over with anticipation of Christmas, when we will give her the doll."

"The Constitution Express" department of "Little Miss Georgia" I believe she is the most remarkable doll I ever saw, and Mr. J. H. Hunter is well to his prizes of her excellence. That she is a very expensive doll is plain to see, and we are all gratified at the fact that Louise has won so valuable, durable and wonderful a Christmas toy."

Mrs. Hunter added that it took Louise only three days to win "Little Miss Georgia" under the terms of the Constitution's sensational free Christmas doll offer.

"We have a young son who has set out to win a 'Constitution Express' doll," she said. "Both the 'Little Miss Georgia' doll and 'The Constitution Express' wonder wagon offers are exclusively made by The Constitution. Scores of prizes are winning these splendid prizes without spending a penny, and all who have not yet begun active operation with the view to winning these elaborate toys for themselves are invited to communicate at once with 'The Constitution Express' department of 'Little Miss Georgia'."

NASHVILLE OFFICIALS DISCHARGED IN ROW

Nashville, December 2.—Announcement of a shortage of between $4,000 and $5,000 in the revenue department of the city of Nashville and the removal of three officers and a clerk in that department was made today by Mayor Hilary E. Howe.

At the meeting of the board of public works this morning, Allen B. Cummings was elected new city treasurer and appointed Thomas Bauer his assistant.

Walter C. McAllister was named as new assistant comptroller. Officers removed were: Thomas J. Murphy, city treasurer; Otto B. Giers, assistant city treasurer, and T. Haynes Harvill, assistant city comptroller. Roy H. Lane, clerk in the comptroller's office, was discharged in September, it is stated.

In explaining the removals, Mayor Howe and City Attorney Washington Moore in a statement stated that the city treasurer and his assistant were responsible for the correct conduct of the office. Assistant City Comptroller Harvill was said to have admitted improper posting of payments, and the statement continued, "any explanation he could make would at least show negligence." The statement said that Lane had admitted obtaining from taxpayers money and checks on fraudulent duplicate tax receipts and raised tax receipts.

Lane's father, it was said, had assumed responsibility for his actions and for his presence.

Shakespeare as Spicy As 'The Sheik' Actress Tells Emory

Emory University, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—The works of Shakespeare are just as modern and as full of life as anything that is written today, declared Miss Mona Morgan, of the "Seventh Heaven" company, in a talk to Emory students at chapel Tuesday morning. Miss Morgan, who takes the part of "Nana," the older sister, in the production which is playing at the Atlanta theater this week, then proceeded to prove her statement by giving readings from two of Shakespeare's plays.

"The Sheik," which was so popular with the younger generation when it first appeared, is closely paralleled by Shakespeare's "Othello," said Miss Morgan while dealing with a love affair between a member of the white race and an Arab.

Selections from "The Taming of the Shrew" and "Henry IV" were read by Miss Morgan with enough life and "pep" to convince even the most cynical of the truth of her assertion, and the applause that greeted her reading was deafening.

Miss Morgan appeared under the auspices of the Shakespeare League of America.

CRUDE OIL SHORTAGE SEEN BY GEOLOGIST

New York, December 2.—Predicting that the domestic output of crude oil will fall below the 1924 demand in the United States, Dr. Julian D. Sears, administrative geologist of the geological survey, Tuesday warned the fuel division of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, against prodigal waste, which, he said, was apparent in all oil fields.

"Present methods of extracting oil give pitifully poor results," he asserted. "It is estimated that, when the average field is exhausted and ready to be abandoned, at least 80 per cent of the original oil content is left in the ground."

The domestic output this year will fall $2,000,000 barrels below demand, Sears declared, and said that the estimated imports for the year were 90,000,000 barrels.

"If demand continues to exceed domestic output, the deficit may force us into active competition with other countries for the world's oil supply. It is estimated that only 18 per cent of the world's supply is controlled by the United States," he said.

Making a plea for some new and more efficient methods of extraction and refining, he said:

"Some new and radically different form of energy may supplant gasoline or fuel oil, but this is too problematical to consider."

MRS. LIDA M. ATLEE DIES TUESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Lida Moss Atlee, secretary of the North Atlanta district of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, died Tuesday night at her residence, 342 West Peachtree street, following an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Atlee had lived in Atlanta for the past 25 years. She was a daughter of the late Col. and Mrs. Frank A. Moss, of Knoxville, Tenn., and is survived by her husband.

Other survivors are her husband, Frank H. Atlee; two daughters, Mrs. Jack C. Allen and Miss Francis Atlee, of Atlanta.

Funeral services will be held from the First Methodist church at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Dr. J. Costen Harrell, officiating. The body will be taken to Chattanooga for interment by Barclay and Brandon.

that Mr. Lynch is soon to transfer the seat of his financial activities from Atlanta to some Florida city, probably Miami. He said tonight that the sale of Tanlac does not mean that he will retire from business, adding that he would devote himself in future to real estate developments in Miami, Daytona and other Florida cities.

Leaves Medicine Field.

Sale of Tanlac marks the retirement of Mr. Lynch from the patent medicine field. The subsidiaries of International Proprietaries, including the Super Medicine company, of Atlanta, Tanlac, limited, of Canada, and The Tanlac Co., Inc., of Buenos Aires have all involved in the transaction. Transfer of the stock of the companies was made in Boston today.

Mr. Lynch, who formerly operated 200 theaters in the south and sold in those interests to the famous Flamingo corporation, has been operating the Tanlac enterprises three or four years.

Mr. Lynch has just purchased his yacht, "The Luneta," from Colonel Stocum, of Washington. The yacht was relocated throughout by a representative of the Chamberlain-Johnson-Bose company, of Atlanta, sent here especially for that purpose. The outfitting and decorating were completed a day or so ago and the vessel sailed today for Miami. "The Luneta" is 90 feet long and is magnificently appointed.

While no official information could be obtained here Tuesday night, local financiers expressed the opinion that Tanlac might be listed on the New York Stock exchange by the broker-broker group.

GUARD PROBLEMS ARE DISCUSSED BY ARMY OFFICERS

Philadelphia, December 2.—The need for rigid economy in the administration of the national guard was emphasized today by Major General George C. Rickards, chief of the militia bureau of the war department, in an address before the convention of the National Guard association of the United States.

Development of the motorized divisions of the guard and the use of ammunition in practice cut heavily into the appropriation available, General Rickards said, and the abundant stocks of military equipment available for guard use after the war virtually have been exhausted. On the other hand, the general points out, the guard at present is at its greatest strength in number of men.

Colonel E. J. Williams, executive officer of the militia bureau, told the delegates that the reduction of the regular army, lack of cooperation and the cutting down on the defense budget gradually was making impossible the carrying out of the plans under the national defense act of 1920.

"I accuse no one or no particular department," said Colonel Williams, "and express only my own opinion, formed after careful study of the situation. There is no stability to our plan of national defense, nor to the manner or method of its development, and no meeting of the controlling minds of the various elements of the national defense, or of governmental authority charged with its execution in order that there may be continuity of action and purpose and an economy of expenditure."

arrived at Grady hospital, an elderly woman, whose name was not learned, was treated for slight injuries. She was struck by a car driven by T. L. Bagwell, of East Lake. According to Patrolman W. H. Dodd, the woman could not speak plainly enough for him to ascertain her name.

Bagwell was driving north on Peachtree street when the woman ran sud- denly in front of his car. She was attempting to catch a moving street car, Patrolman Dodd stated. Witnesses absolved Bagwell of all blame, and no charges were made against him. The woman, who appeared to be about 50 years of age, was dismissed from the hospital after her injuries were treated.

the woman would have been attacked before her husband.

Police were summoned to the Edwards home about 4 o'clock this morning by neighbors, who were aroused by the physician's cries and the cracking of a pistol.

Mrs. Edwards' body was found in bed. The half-empty phials of chloroform laid on the floor.

Mary Sue, 5-year-old daughter, was sleeping soundly in another bed in the same room. Neither this child nor the Edwards' 15-month-old baby boy were caused by the disturbance.

Doctor's Hand Bleeding.

The physician's hand was bleeding from a revolver wound and he was taken to Emory hospital, where officers questioned him during the day. Authorities, while declaring that they have fastened the crime on Dr. Edwards, added that the mystery was not entirely solved. They are still seeking for a more in the strange slaying, at the same time scoffing the burglary theory advanced by the physician.

COOLIDGE OPPOSES LONGER FURLOUGH FOR GEN. BUTLER

Washington, December 2.—President Coolidge has indicated he opposed further leave of absence to Brigadier General Smedley Butler, of the marine corps, who stirred up Philadelphia politicians when he went over there a year ago as temporary chief of police.

The president thinks assignment of regular service men to municipal duty should be resorted to only in emergencies.

derstood to have strong support, while a large number of senators have expressed themselves as having an open mind on the subject.

Will Block Fight.

Senator Norris declared today he would make an effort to block a long, aimless discussion of the issue, and hopes to determine whether the administration forces plan to oppose all of the present proposals or have a definite course mapped out for solution of the problem.

Senator Ladd, North Dakota, a member of the insurgent group, said he was in favor of submitting the whole issue squarely to President Coolidge for settlement. The North Dakota senator was a supporter of the Ford bill.

The plan to refer the whole question back to the senate agriculture committee as suggested recently by some senators, will, if advanced, be met with vigorous opposition from Chairman Norris, who asserted today that the committee already had considered the subject exhaustively. The committee reported the Norris bill, he added and if it was not acceptable to the senate, then it was up to the senate or the president to say—but disposition should be made of Muscle Shoals. He is expected to get support in this contention from a number of southern senators, who are opposed to any further delay in making a course for the operation of the property.

Three Plans Outlined.

The Underwood and Norris bills are similar in some respects but the two factions so far have been unable to agree on other provisions in the measures.

Both provide either for government or private operation but the Norris bill gives encouragement mainly to the power development and distribution, while the Underwood measure deals principally with the production of nitrogen for fertilizer and explosives.

The Norris bill would create a laboratory for experimentation into fertilizer manufacture and should a cheap process be discovered and the demand warranted all of the power could be turned into the production of fertilizer. During the process of experimentation, however, the bill would authorize the distribution of the current in the adjacent territory.

The Underwood bill, on the other hand, would demand the production of 40,000 tons of fixed nitrogen after the first three years for conversion into fertilizer and the power provisions are secondary.

The Hooker-White-Atterbury proposal is a combination of the two plans. They offer to produce on a profit-sharing basis with the government financing the project both fertilizer and power. They propose to manufacture fertilizer up to a certain limit provided the trade can consume the output and at the same time sell and distribute power throughout the southern area.

FORD IS SILENT ON SENATORS' WIRE.

Washington, December 2.—Henry Ford was asked today in a telegram sent by Senator McKellar, Tennessee, and Senator Heflin, Alabama, democrat, to renew his offer for Muscle Shoals. Late today the motor manufacturer had not replied to the message.

He was asked that if the senate agreed to accept his bid, which was withdrawn, would he be willing to accept Muscle Shoals.

CHURCH LEADERS IN ATLANTA TODAY

in private homes, and there will be accommodations for all.

There are four Atlanta notables on the program of the convention. In addition to these, Dr. R. O. Flinn, pastor of the North Avenue Presbyterian church, is in charge of the committee on arrangements. His report will precede the address of welcome by Dr. Durham.

Dr. Ashby Jones, of the Ponce de Leon Baptist church, M. M. Davies, and John Hope, president of Morehouse college, will address the convention.

Among the other delegates will be Archbishop Pentecost of the Eastern orthodox church in Jerusalem, who is in America soliciting funds for the support of his church since the withdrawal of financial assistance by the soviet of Russia. Governor Sweet, of Colorado, also is to attend, but will not arrive in Atlanta until Friday, at the earliest.

Most of the sessions of the Federal Council of Churches—the largest Protestant cooperative body in the world—will be held at the Central Presbyterian church, with a meeting at noon and another at 8 o'clock at night daily during the seven days of the convention. An evangelistic meeting will be held at 12:15 o'clock each afternoon in the Forsyth theater for business men and women.

William Jennings Bryan will attend the meeting, but he has sent word that he does not know just what day he will be able to appear.

Charles A. Sheldon, city organist, will be in charge of the music at all of the meetings. He has announced that he has secured cooperation of all city church choirs for the convention. The choir of the Central Presbyterian church will sing at the first night meeting Wednesday, and other choirs will appear on later occasions.

Prohibition is regarded as a huge success by former Governor Carl M. Milliken, of Maine, one of the first of the speakers to arrive in Atlanta Tuesday.

"It may require another generation before prohibition enforcement is all that we wish it to be," former Governor Milliken averred. "But it is coming along highly satisfactorily in America."

"The Britishers declare that they will never have prohibition. They assert they will take America as a shining example against it, but they don't know what they are talking about any more than I do when I talk about the Irish question."

Today's Program.

The official program for Wednesday—the opening day—follows:

Wednesday Afternoon, 2:30 O'clock.

Opening devotional service, led by the president of the council.

Report of Committee on Arrangements—Chairman, Rev. Richard Bruce Plinn, pastor of North Avenue Presbyterian church, Atlanta, Ga.

Report of the Committee on Program—Chairman, Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Washington, D. C.

Report of Executive Committee—Chairman, Rev. Frederick W. Durham, president of the United Christian Missionary society, St. Louis, Mo.

Address of welcome from the church of Atlanta—"The Need of the World for a Church of Christ," by Professor Plato J. Durham, president of the Atlanta Christian council.

Brief messages from the churches of other lands—From the national church council of Japan, by Rev. A. K. Reischauer of Tokyo. From the committee of cooperation in Brazil, by Rev. H. C. Tucker, Rio de Janeiro. From the Evangelical church federation of Germany, by Professor Julius H. Richter, of Berlin. From the Swiss Federation of Churches, by Rev. Adolf Keller, of Zurich. Reading of other messages.

Address: "The Church Universal, the Hope for World Peace," by Rt. Hon. J. Willoughby Dickinson, of London, honorary secretary of the World Alliance for International Friendship Through the Churches.

Wednesday Night, 8 O'clock.

Beginning a series of public meetings on "The Common Tasks of the Churches."

"Training the Youth for Christ," by Rev. Henry H. Swets, of Louisville, Ky., secretary of the executive committee on Christian education of the Presbyterian church in the United States.

Special music by the North Avenue Presbyterian church choir.

report independently of the small fracture of the temple bone found by four San Bernardino surgeons and described by them at the coroner's inquest as the cause of death. The evidence of this fracture was cut away in the first autopsy and Dr. Wagner could not see it at the second. He says if this fracture did exist, "it cannot be explained."

Dr. Wagner said the lung and heart attack could have been brought about by a "mental excitement."

Sellers, in his report at the conference, gave scientific facts which he said were in his opinion stronger than the second autopsy findings.

Sellers declared that the seven searchers, including officers who had declared they searched the spot where the body was found and that it was not there on Sunday and Monday, were merely mistaken.

Sellers said Fee's hand, which grasped the shears, was stained by rust, not blood, as originally believed. He said rigor mortis had not set in at the time the body first reached the ground, as evidenced by the fact that Fee's nose was twisted by its pressure against the ground and that there were deep lines in the face where it laid against twigs on the ground. If Fee had died elsewhere, rigor mortis would have set in before the body could have been moved to the spot.

SAVANNAH HAS WOMAN IN HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Savannah, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—Miss Minna Grady was today appointed by Mayor Paul E. Seabrook to be a sanitary inspector. She is the first woman ever named for this position by the city in the health department.

Savannah has a woman as chief bacteriologist, Mrs. M. Bergholdt.

FEDERAL AID GIVEN TO STATES RAPID

creasing of taxation by state, county and municipal governments is going on at a pace which some thoughtful persons in the treasury regard as most unfortunate.

Garrard B. Winston, under secretary of the treasury, has pointed out that while the per capita tax levied by the federal government would be cut from $29 to $27 this fiscal year, the per capita tax of the states and municipalities is increasing.

"With the states and municipalities, the opposite tendency is disclosed," Mr. Winston said. "In 1918, their per capita tax was something over $20. In the next four years it rose to $27, $30, $36 and $38, and the latter figures undoubtedly will show further increases."

Contrast Is Vivid.

This contrast between the reduction of taxes by the federal government and the increasing of them by local states and city governments is vivid. President Coolidge has a right to be proud of the reduction he was able to show in his budget speech.

The conspicuous fact about President Coolidge's budget is that the expenses of the federal government are being reduced more rapidly than any one expected would be possible. The total appropriations are of two classes: First, expenses arising out of paying for the war, which cannot well be controlled now; and, second, the ordinary expenses of running the government. If the first be eliminated, it will be found that as regards the second, the government is being run at an expense only about 30 per cent above the pre-war cost. There are very few corporations, or for that matter, very few households able to keep their expenses down to only 30 per cent above the pre-war level of wages and costs.

State, City Expenses Grow.

But with the state and other local governments, it is a different story. They have no war debts to pay, yet their borrowing and their taxes are being increased at a rate such as to make certain difficulty in the future. In 1912, the total money that had been borrowed by local governments was $3,822,000,000. By 1922 it had been increased to $8,697,000,000; and this year the total amount of long-term bonds owed by local governments is estimated by the industrial conference board at $10,500,000,000. They say that the increase the present year alone is between eight hundred million and a billion. It is to pay the interest on this debt that the owners of farms, homes and factories face steadily increasing taxation. Very few farmers pay any income or other taxes to the federal government. It is the constant incurring of debt by local states and counties that has raised the farmers' taxes to the point where they embarrass him seriously.

President Coolidge alluded briefly to another aspect of the relations between the federal government and the states. His suggestion pointed broadly toward the idea that the state governments should do things for themselves and neither lean on the federal government nor be subsidized by it. This is the ancient democratic doctrine of states' rights, though

President Coolidge would probably couple to that slogan the additional one of "state responsibilities." The most thoughtful men in the writer's acquaintance believe there is more potent political vitality and more virtue in this issue than in any other now in sight.

CLOSED-CAR-WEEK EXHIBITS DRAW GREAT CROWDS TO SALESROOMS OF LOCAL AUTOMOBILE DEALERS

Atlantans and Visitors Voice Approval of Local Auto Dealers' Exhibits

New Models, New Finishes, and Latest Modes in Closed-Car Hardware and Trimmings Please Show Visitors.

Atlantans and visitors from near-by towns thronged local automobile dealers' establishments Tuesday in even greater numbers than on the first day of closed car week.

of visitors at the local exhibits can be taken as a criterion. Throughout Monday the number of visitors increased until closing time in the evening, and began with a fresh rush Tuesday morning which gained strength in numbers until evening when the largest crowds of the week were inspecting the latest offerings of the master coach work of the world.

That the coach building art is progressing to the liking of the American public was quite evident to any one who listened to the comments of showroom visitors. Everywhere they pointed out minute refinements in the design of the new bodies, as well as in the finish and trimmings, of which American built cars are justly proud. It was seldom indeed that these improvements escaped the eye of the buyer. Salesmen on floor duty during the week commented freely upon this feature of the show.

"Never before have I worked in a show booth when so much actual knowledge of automobiles was displayed by visitors, and never before have I found all visitors to be so keenly interested."

There were no idle questions and curiosity seekers among the visitors at our showrooms," said one of the salesmen. "They were all interested in seeing the latest offerings of our factory, and they were quick to point out the refinements of the new models. Not once during the week have I found it necessary to point out these improvements, but I did notice a most intelligent questioning of salesmen about the mechanical and hidden improvements," continued this veteran of automobile row.

Educational Feature. The combined exhibits of Atlanta dealers offer not only a glimpse of the newest in automobile styles and construction, but they offer an opportunity to become thoroughly acquainted with the value and merit of each particular line, and to compare it with those of other makes.

In the words of one of the leading local dealers, the educational value of the show is of no mean importance, and should the prospective buyer devote an evening, or even several evenings, to a careful inspection and study of the different makes and the various types of bodies offered by each maker, it would likely mean a saving in money on the purchase of a new car, and would certainly mean the probability of getting the exact type of body most suited to the needs and fancy of the purchaser.

There are more than thirty different makes of cars being offered by local dealers, and of these a number of makers offer two or more distinct chassis, bringing the actual number of cars to about 40. Each make offers from four to as high as 25 different body styles, bringing the total to about 100 models. A careful study of these different cars, their merits and prices, is proving of unusual interest to show week visitors.

Dealers "Open House." Every Atlanta dealer organization is holding open house through the remainder of closed car week, which ends Saturday evening, December 6. They have extended to their owners and friends a cordial invitation to visit their exhibits, or to make a call on any member of their organization during the week.

Dealers realize the advantage of being personally acquainted with the owners of their cars, and will be pleased to have their owners get acquainted with their organization, and to inspect their facilities for serving them.

RELIEF FROM COLD PREDICTED TODAY BY VON HERRMANN Wednesday is slated to bring partial relief from the cold wave which has enveloped Atlanta. The weatherman promises a temperature considerably higher than that of Tuesday, when the low record for the season, of 26 degrees, was made in the early morning. The thermometer only rose to 42 degrees during the entire day. It is probable that the lowest point for the mercury for Wednesday morning will be 33 or 34 degrees, according to C. F. von Herrmann, the local forecaster.

Tuesday, while it was the coldest December 2 experienced in the city for the past 10 years, did not set a record for the season of the year, colder weather having frequently been experienced at an earlier date than this. Temperatures of the past few days, however, have been far below the average for this time of the year. There will be no rain Wednesday, though some rains and increasing cloudiness have been observed over Texas, which may come this way in a few days, the forecast sets out.

High School Disposition Biggest Merger Problem

Disposition of East Point and College Park high schools under the proposed merger of Atlanta, East Point, College Park and Fulton county school systems will be a determining factor in including those municipalities in the metropolitan school district. It was indicated Tuesday in statements issued by J. T. McGee, superintendent of the East Point system, and T. A. Clower, College Park superintendent.

"I am not certain just what effect the merger would have on our high school," Mr. McGee stated. "If it permitted East Point to retain its present high school under the new system, I would be heartily in favor of the merger, but if the present high school is to be made into a junior high under the new plan I am of the opinion that a number of East Point citizens would oppose the project."

High School Problem. Practically the same views were expressed by Mr. Clower. "I hardly know enough of the details of the consolidation to venture an opinion at this time," he said. "I would desire to learn what would be done with our high school." He said, "College Park citizens want a high school here and while the merger undoubtedly would be advantageous to our school system in many ways, I am not certain that those advantages would overcome the disadvantage of forcing our children to attend high schools in Atlanta if it should be decided to abolish the College Park High school."

Only One Objection. In fact, possibility of losing present high schools was the only objection expressed by either Mr. McGee or Mr. Clower, and Mr. McGee stated that he is wholeheartedly in favor of the consolidation if the high school problem can be adjusted satisfactorily.

"A year ago East Point citizens voted to maintain a municipality separate from Atlanta," he said, "and their main reason for doing so was the fear that they would lose the high school if this city was merged with Atlanta. We have a fine new high school and are proud of our entire school system. Many people are of the opinion that it would be best to let well enough alone, but I feel that many advantages would be derived by East Point schools as a result of the change if the merger allowed us to retain our high school."

Wants More Information. Although I would lose my position as superintendent of the East Point school system, if it is shown that the merger would benefit East Point students, I am in favor of it," Mr. Clower desired more detailed information concerning the consolidation before expressing a definite opinion.

"I know little of the proposal other than what I have read in the newspapers," he said, "but the proposition appears to be feasible. It certainly presents several advantages for College Park students, but residents of this city are of the opinion that a high school should be maintained here, and if it is I do not think that a majority of our citizens will favor the change. However, until I am able to obtain additional information regarding the consolidation, I have nothing further to say."

Under the proposed change, the four systems would be merged into a metropolitan district, under control of a board of education composed of seven members, one to be elected from each of the seven municipalities to be created. The superintendent of schools would be elected by the board.

In addition to the uniform system, important advantages would be the money saving effected because of the fact that only one administrative body, instead of four, would be needed, and that students could be assigned to schools nearest their homes.

RAYMOND O'TOOLE DIES AT HOME IN DETROIT

News has been received in Atlanta of the death in Detroit of Raymond O'Toole. He was a brother of Mrs. Henry Salmon, of Atlanta, who left Monday to attend funeral services, which will be held Thursday morning. Mr. O'Toole was prominent in insurance circles in Detroit. CIGAR TAX EVASION CAUSES CONFERENCE Probability that further amendments of enforcement provisions of the state tobacco stamp law will be sought at the next session of the legislature became known Tuesday after conferences between Commissioner John M. Vandiver, Governor Walker, Attorney General George M. Napier and Pension Commissioner Nat E. Harris.

Mr. Vandiver stated Tuesday that three-fourths of the cigar and cigarette dealers in Georgia are evading the stamp law and that it is impossible for his small force to enforce the law thoroughly.

An appeal to all sheriffs and other law enforcement officers to cooperate in efforts to enforce the cigar and cigarette tax law will be made immediately, but Commissioner Vandiver declares the only way to make full enforcement possible is a strengthening of the law itself.

"We are having our chief trouble with foreigners, who profess to be ignorant of the law, but there are too many native Georgians who are evading it," Commissioner Vandiver declared. "Some people figure that it is all right to beat the state, or a public service corporation, if they can, but in this instance, they are cheating the old Confederate veterans, many of whom are in dire distress, and the unfortunate at the State Tuberculosis sanitarium at Alton. These two classes get all the proceeds of the cigar and cigarette tax."

"Possibly Georgians have not thought of the beneficiaries of this tax, when they have failed to stamp their cigars and cigarettes, or have sent their orders out of the state to save a few cents."

Toole and Farrell Clash at Baseball Meeting

Debate Starts as Martin, Southern President, Moves To Shelve Amendments

SWAPS PLAYERS FOR AIRPLANE

Hartford, Conn., December 2.—An innovation in trades in organized baseball was made at the National association here today when Barney Burch, president of the Omaha (Neb.) Western League club, traded a pitcher and a catcher to Edward J. Tracy, president of the St. Joseph (Mo.) club, in exchange for an airplane.

The deal is a legal baseball transaction involving pitcher R. L. Lube and catcher F. J. Wilder, who will report to the St. Joseph club at the start of next season in 1925.

According to the rules of the National association, 2 per cent of the purchase price of the player must go into the treasury of the association and the Western League magnates were puzzled for some time as to how this might be handled.

President Burch solved the problem by offering to give Secretary John H. Farrell a ride from his home in Auburn, N. Y., to St. Joseph, Mo., and back in one day to take care of the 2 per cent.

Among the various trades reported late tonight was the sale of Harry Shay, infielder, by the Boston Braves to the Shreveport club of the Texas League.

The New York Giants sold catcher Joe Smith to the Reading club of the International League.

Hartford, Conn., December 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—An old feud, long simmering, boiled over at the opening session of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues today when John Conway Toole, president of the International League, and John H. Farrell, secretary of the National association, clashed in an argument over consideration of the proposed amendments to the major-minor league rulings.

Criticizing Farrell for sending out the amendments to the minor league magnates before they had been acted on by the major leagues and charging that Farrell was a party to a "persistent and willful violation of the optional player agreement," Toole voiced a vigorous protest against the practice of the major leagues in ignoring the presence of an agreement.

The debate started when John D. Martin, of Memphis, president of the Southern association, moved that the proposed amendments be shelved as a whole without consideration until they were acted on by the majors.

After a long and heated discussion in which what proved to be a virtual attack on Farrell's administration was made by Toole, the magnates voted to lay the matter over until tomorrow.

Continual Violation.

"Every year since 1921, the major leagues have violated the major-minor optional player agreement by placing as many as fifteen players out on option to minor league clubs when our rules specifically state that the limit is eight," Toole said. "You are secretary of our national association and it is your business to check this flood of illegal options."

"I have persistently written to your office and to the office of Judge Landis to find out how many players have been placed in the International league on option, but I have never been given a satisfactory answer."

"How many players on option were in our league last year?" asked Toole of Farrell.

"I don't know; I didn't count them," said Farrell.

"It's your business as secretary of our association to count them and let us know how we stand," Toole retorted. "Why didn't you stop the flow of such deals when eight had been reached?"

Abides by Landis.

To which Farrell replied: "All players in your league on option above eight are there because Judge Landis ruled that the majors were within their rights to dispose of 15 players in this manner and I don't feel that I have the authority to overrule Judge Landis."

Twenty-one leagues were represented at today's session.

The treasurer's report, which was accepted, showed that the national association had a balance of $115,846 at the conclusion of play in the minor leagues this year. It was revealed that $2,113,408 was paid by both major and minor league clubs in purchase and sale of players assignment of contracts, playing players on option, exercising options, drafting players and for territorial liens allowed.

CRACKERS SIGN INFIELDER GAZELLA

Dan Michalove, president of the Atlanta Baseball association, who is in Hartford, Conn., attending a meeting of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, last night wired Gazella, an infielder, who had secured Gazella, an infielder, from the Yankees.

Gazella played last year in the American association.

He also stated that Homer Haworth, catcher, and Dick Niehaus, pitcher, have been loaned to Des Moines, of the Western League.

Johnny Brock will in all probability be back in action next year playing his role as first string receiver. His running mate has not been announced.

President Michalove also intimated that other deals of importance relative to the personnel of the 1925 Crackers would be ready for announcement within a short time.

WOMAN BARELY ESCAPES DEATH IN BURNING HOME

Mrs. S. D. Stokely narrowly escaped death Tuesday morning when she dashed from her burning home at 11-13 Druid place, just a few seconds before the roof crashed in. The house, a duplex structure, was almost totally destroyed, together with valuable furnishings and the possessions of three families. The damage was estimated at $25,000.

Mrs. Stokely was aroused to her peril by persons who saw the flames from the streets, and she rushed out of the house just in time to avoid being buried beneath a mass of flaming lumber.

Another fire Tuesday destroyed the roof on the home of Collier F. Ford, at 115 Highland avenue. The damage was estimated at $400.

Tuesday fire officials declared that calls answered by the Atlanta fire department for the first 11 months of 1924 already had exceeded the number answered by the department last year; 2,366 calls had been answered up until Tuesday, as compared to 2,311 in 1923. The activity Monday, when 23 calls were answered, was near the record for a single day, it was said.

COLLEGE STAR SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

Russellville, Ark., December 2.—"Pug" Edwards, quarterback on the College of Ozark football team, was shot and seriously wounded by Jay Rogers, traveling salesman, at Rogers' home here tonight. Edwards, with a bullet wound through his groin, was taken to St. Mary's hospital after the shooting.

Edwards came from Clarksville this afternoon in company with Ray Blair, former College of Ozark football player, but now attending the agricultural school at Russellville, and went to the home of Rogers, who is Edwards' uncle, according to reports.

Edwards was drinking, according to officers, and remarks made in the presence of Rogers' wife are said to have caused him trouble. Blair was said to have had no part in the quarrel. Rogers was released on his own recognizance after the shooting.

SECOND TECH CAGE WORK IS HELD

The Georgia Tech basketball candidates went through a second workout Tuesday afternoon and continued the work that was started Monday night by teaching the young basketballers how to handle the ball without losing the stride as this is one of the most essential parts of a basketball machine.

The players seemed to take in what he said on Monday night and Tuesday afternoon the workout was a decided improvement over that of Monday night.

There are more than 40 candidates trying out for the team and the entire squad that is now, including the ends and backs of the football team, will be kept at work for at least three weeks, before a cut is made in the squad.

The places left vacant by the departure of "Baby" Rone and Joe Eckford will be hard to fill but with an abundance of new material on hand Coach Hanes should not have very much trouble in molding a Georgia Tech team.

The players of last season are rapidly getting into shape and before many days have passed Cliff King, "Skinney" Demme, Captain Moore and Bates and Blackmon should be ready for real work.

Cliff King seems likely to play either the center position or one of the forwards with Demme playing the other forward position.

There will be a merry scramble for the guard position left vacant by Rone and Bates and Carter and Barrow working nicely together. Blackmon made a letter last season and will put up a great fight in order to land a duplicate berth this season.

COOLIDGE TO HANG HIS XMAS SOCK AT WHITE HOUSE

Washington, December 2.—President Coolidge will forego a Christmas party at his father's at Plymouth, Vt. He will hang up his sock in the white house.

"I wouldn't mind going myself," he said to visitors Tuesday, "but I don't think some of the newspapermen who would have to go along would like tramping in the snow up there."

His son, John, will come down from Amherst for the holidays.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE FALLS FOR ALLURING TALES

CHAPTER 14—CONFESSIONS OF A FOOTBALL SCOUT

BY A VETERAN.

(Copyright, 1924, in U. S. and Canada by North American Newspaper Alliance. All rights reserved.)

DO EDUCATORS EDUCATE?

As I have said, football coaches often receive a salary greater than that of the president of the university, and as a general rule two or three times that of the average professor. In a southern state university, where the coach draws $12,000 per year and is paid out of university funds, this was the subject of a legislative investigation several years ago. The disparity between athletic and academic salaries was vigorously attacked. This controversy with its outcome is interesting in that it put the discussion clearly on the boards and threw a great deal of light on the motivation of the football system.

The advocates of big-business athletics won. The maintenance of the college football was of supreme importance and that no college could hope to survive without a successful football team. They insisted that the real strength of a university lay in a superior student body and that the stragglers in athletics got only second rate men—and fewer of them. The coach not only stayed on the payroll, but he has since received a rise in salary.

Who Is Responsible?

It seems to me that it settles down to the question of what the youth of America really believe in. They want to go to college, what they want to do in college, and how they expect to articulate their college experience with their later life. This may sound a bit vague, but I believe it goes to the heart of the problem. People, collectively, get what they want and believe in. There are laws in the statute books of certain New England towns against witchcraft. They passed into disuse because nobody believed in them. The transition from any dark era into a more enlightened one always has been by a wider diffusion of intelligence and by the building up of higher standards.

The youth in America today reflects adult standards, and adult standards exalt the "go-getter" and belittle the humanist.

Faculties, rules committees and all the other mentors of football can go on forever building bulwarks against professionalism and all-time and under-graduates will continue to get what they want—as long as they continue to want it. With the present competitive motivation of football, they want, above all, winning teams, and as long as this obtains they will find ways to gloss over the business of hiring men and making it look respectable.

Within the Law.

As a football scout, I have always worked within the established sanctions of the business. I have never asked money to a boy but I have helped to rig virtually fake scholarships. I have dug up ornamental jobs which carried no real work, I have arranged loans for football players, knowing very well that the boy was not expected to repay the money. Any one of these transactions, challenged in a public controversy, could have been convincingly defended. But I know, and I would be dishonest if I did not admit, that these players were hired just as if I agreed baldly to pay them so much a year and had written them a check for the amount.

I have written about the desire of the average American youth to join a showy fraternity. It is this which makes them swallow the bait which the college coaches use. It is in this respect alone that they fall short in their standards. In my 10 years of scouting I have learned considerably about the high school graduate. My general conclusion is that on the whole, they have a most elaborate indifference to the old ideologies which we used to associate with education.

These boys are out for success and glory and they are fully alive to the importance of athletic and social leadership.

Can we not trace a great deal of the responsibility to the secondary schools? It seems to me that, having these boys for four years, these educators ought to be able to implant in them something better than the shoddy standards which many of them seem to adopt. If the average youth had a conception of education ranging beyond the narrow vocational aspects which it is now assuming, if he had any genuine respect for the great—and incidentally, underpaid—educators who abound in American colleges, if he sought a goal somewhere beyond the portals of a snob fraternity or a soft job—well, I would lose my job. They wouldn't take our bait.

No Chance for Plato.

Let us suppose a university faculty including Socrates, Aristotle, Plato, St. Augustine, Erasmus, Sir Francis Bacon, Voltaire, Huxley, Pasteur and John Dewey. Let us suppose that the government gives them the Zeppelin hangar at Lakehurst for a classroom and they announce the opening of the first semester and wait for customers. I'll take all comers, for any kind of a bet that they would make, that I can take my old and venerable line of hokum down to Lakehurst and take all the best men away from them, and leave them with the scrubs. That's the point. It's the last time I'll make it. It is the football monkey turn. They are enterprising enough to know a winning line when they see it.

I'm addressing the wingtip of all this to the mythical average man—not to parents and educators. He is the chap whose standards, sanctions, moralities and taboos always prevail. Let him believe that real education is important, and secretly professionalized football will no longer stride the campus "like a Colossus."

THE END.

HOT WEATHER MAY HURT IRISH

BY WALTER CAMP.

Special Leased Wire.

Palo Alto, December 2.—The physical condition of Notre Dame's football team is not as good as it looks. The team is suffering from the effects of the hot weather and the long train ride to California, which will be important factors in the game at Pasadena against Stanford on New Year's day.

Notre Dame has a beautifully rounded football machine and although Layden is out right now, with a strained ligament, the chances are he will be O. K. for the Stanford game. Stuhldreher, who is the star of the cleverest quarterback of the gridiron and he knows how to use Knute Rockne's machine with the greatest efficiency. Crowley, Miller and Corney, who takes Layden's place, are all first class backfield men—Crowley probably a shade the best.

Line Is Light.

From the standpoint of physique the Notre Dame line is none too heavy and the pounding with a powerful weighty backfield that Stanford will give it may possibly give Rockne's line men more to do than they can stand.

The writer expects to see Notre Dame's defense against forward passing as better than Stanford's throwing of the ball than did California but still some of these long, clever passes of Warner's men may get through.

There is not much to choose between the two teams in the kicking game. Notre Dame's ends, however, are better than Stanford's and they are on running plays and will give Stanford's ends and tackles something to think about.

Should Notre Dame strike warm weather in Pasadena, the writer's opinion is that a good deal of their pep and vigor will disappear.

ATLANTA NEGROES NAMED ON BOARD

Chicago, December 2.—The new board of education of the Methodist Episcopal church, authorized by the recent general conference, has been organized, according to an announcement today. Dr. W. S. Board, of Chicago, was elected general secretary of the conference.

The personnel of the new board includes Bishop Ernest Richardson, colored, president of the Atlanta area, composed of South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. Rev. King is connected with the Gammon Theological seminary as an instructor.

The new board will perform the duties formerly divided among four bodies of the church, and will have charge of all educational institutions, Sunday school and Epworth league work, it is claimed.

ARTIFICIAL LARYNX PROVES SUCCESSFUL

Baltimore, Md., December 2.—Experiments in which persons supplied with an artificial larynx have been enabled to speak well enough to make themselves understood have been conducted by Dr. J. E. MacKenzie, of New York, it was disclosed today before the Baltimore Medical society.

Patients who have undergone operations for cancer of the throat and whose vocal apparatus was removed, have been enabled to breathe through holes in the neck and use the instrument substituted for the larynx have made themselves understood in what has been termed a "voice almost human" and audible through a good-sized room.

The device consists of a pad over the breathing aperture in the patient's neck, with a rubber tube leading to an instrument that stimulates the vocal cords. Air is forced down the lungs and is set in vibration, the vibrations being carried through a short tube like a pipe stem into the speaker's mouth. The result is said to be similar to speech in a monotone.

JONES GREETED BY BRITISH PROS

Asheville, N. C., December 2.—After they had played over 18 holes at the Asheville Country club this afternoon in a practice match preliminary to their contest tomorrow, Abe Mitchell and George Duncan, British professionals, went to the Biltmore Forest club where their opponents for tomorrow's match, Francis Quimmet and Bobby Jones, were greeted.

Mitchell and Duncan arrived here at noon from New York and Jones and Quimmet reached the city this afternoon, the former coming from Atlanta and the latter from Philadelphia. Tomorrow's match is expected to be witnessed by the largest crowd ever present for such a contest in this city. In the practice play Duncan had a 73 and Mitchell 74.

STUHLREHER GETS SEVERAL OFFERS

New York, December 2.—Coach Knute Rockne, the Notre Dame football coach, left today for home with his star quarterback, Harry Stuhldreher, after a two-day business trip here during which time it is understood Stuhldreher was approached by representatives of two eastern schools with offers of coaching positions next season.

Stuhldreher said he had not signed to coach any team and was not likely to do so, although he intimated he would eventually accept one of several offers he has already received.

Stuhldreher has been generally credited as being the brains of the Notre Dame eleven for the last three years and is said to enjoy unusual confidence of his chief. Among Notre Dame followers he has long been considered a Rockne on the field, and the most valuable man on the Hoosier squad. His home is Massillon, Ohio.

Work on Route.

Coach Rockne said his squad would leave South Bend, Ind., December 20 for Pasadena for the game New Year's Day with the undefeated Stanford eleven. He plans to keep his men in condition by workouts along the route of the Southern Pacific.

Angus McDonald, controller of the Southern Pacific railroad and Notre Dame alumnus, who has been instrumental in arranging the Stanford contest with the tournament of roses committee, said at a dinner given in honor of Rockne and Stuhldreher last night, that an annual Notre Dame game with Stanford on the Pacific coast during the holiday season might be the same manner as has the Army-Notre Dame interscholastic classic on the eastern seaboard.

Army and Penn State will be Notre Dame's two eastern opponents next year, Coach Rockne said, adding that the remainder of his schedule was in a formative stage.

Notre Dame is expected to lose two or three games next season because of the loss of the entire first eleven, seven men from the second and five from the third line. Questioning the team that was the team and the student body good.

"A few losses rest the soul," he said, "except when you lose too often—then you lose your job."

TRIAL OF DISTILLER FOR MURDER BEGINS

St. Louis, December 2.—The jury that will decide whether Lem Motlow, millionaire Tennessee distiller and speculator, shall be found guilty of slaying Clarence T. Puller, a Birmingham contractor, who was shot and killed on his train near here last March 17, will be chosen tomorrow and the taking of testimony will begin at 10 o'clock.

Motlow is charged with murder in the first degree, and the line of questioning today by Circuit Attorney Snider indicated that the death penalty would be asked. Questioning the prospective jurors, the prosecutor asked whether they were willing to vote for capital punishment, and a man was excused when he replied in the negative.

Motlow, the prosecution said it had been informed, had paid $10,000 to the conductor's widow in satisfaction of any civil claim she might have against him. A firm of lawyers, who appeared previously as representing the widow, did not appear to take part in the prosecution.

The Pullman company, it was announced, aided the prosecution in getting witnesses and assembling evidence, but would not be represented by special counsel in the prosecution.

NORTH CAROLINA URGED AS SITE FOR NEW PARK

Washington, December 2.—Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, announced today that he will endeavor to organize a group of senators and representatives to visit his state to inspect the proposed sites for the new Appalachian National park soon to be created.

Mr. Simmons said he believed that North Carolina "by reason of its scenic grandeur, its accessibility, and its fine concrete highways should be very carefully considered," and added:

"The people of the whole eastern United States would be benefited, even those who have heretofore used the Adirondacks, the Catskills, and the White mountains for playgrounds, because while there is a great natural beauty in those sections, the peaks in those mountains are nothing like as high, and the scenery is nothing like as magnificent, as it is in the Blue Ridge section of North Carolina."

He pointed out that Mount Mitchell, the highest peak east of the Rocky mountains, is located in that state.

$38,000,000 IN BILL FOR PUBLIC BUILDINGS

Washington, December 2.—A bill proposing an additional $38,000,000 for public buildings was introduced by Senator Fletcher, democrat, Florida, today.

The bill was referred to the appropriations committee.

Of the total, $13,130,780 would be an increase in the cost of the construction of buildings authorized in 1913.

The remainder would be for the construction of buildings on sites acquired and donated.

College Sport Enjoys Best Year of History; Tech Games Led South

New York, December 2.—(By the Associated Press.)—The frontiers of football, propelled by ever-increasing popularity, are limited now only by the nation's natural boundaries.

Analysis of attendance figures from all parts of the country for the 1924 season, witnessing the greatest growth of any year in gridiron history, shows that the east, original stronghold of the game, no longer has a monopoly on popular interest while other spread with astonishing rapidity through the west and south.

The Pacific coast sector, where 800,000 persons altogether saw four conference championship games, furnishes a startling item of proof of the game's growth in the record crowd of 90,000 at the Stanford-California battle to a tie.

ALEXANDER AWARDS CROWN TO TECH HIGH.

Coach W. A. Alexander, high commissioner of the G. I. A. A., last night awarded the championship of that association to Tech High. It is customary for Coach Alex to name two teams to play a post-season game for the title, but this year Tech High stands head and shoulders above any team in the prep association and an extra game is unnecessary.

BY GEORGE CONGDON.

"Stumpy" Thomason, short, bow-legged and none too heavy even for a prep school team, beat the stuffing out of Boys' High school's eleven-man football team yesterday at Spiller park by the score of 69 to 0. The game was the closing event of the prep school season between Boys' High and Tech High, but this hard-balled little cuss playing left half for Tech High did his stuff so thoroughly that there was no mistaking his ability when the final whistle was blown.

"Stumpy" had serious opposition most of the game. It was in the form of a red-headed youngster, McLesky by name and left end for the Purple Hurricane, who stopped Thomason even when he was sniping clear around on the other end of Boys' High's line. Coming right down to the line, it was a glorious battle between Thomason and McLesky. It was a battle good to grace any college field. It marked two prep stars as unusually desirable for any college. Tech already is assured of one, this Thomason boy.

Thomason did not score all of the touchdowns. Parshall, right halfback, made four and Clinkscales, who went in at fullback in the middle of the game, made one, but behind their gains for first downs and finally their smashes through Boys' High line was little old "Stumpy," with his sure five, ten or 15 yards every time he was signalled to carry the ball.

A Literal Slaughter.

The game was literally a slaughter of Boys' High. McLesky and Boland, fullback and captain of the Hurricane, were the only Boys' High men who had a show at stopping Thomason, Parshall, Rosenblatt, Mayhew, Randolph and Clinkscales. The others, tried, but they were outclassed. Thomason literally made monkeys out of all but McLesky and Boland.

In the whole game Boys' High had the ball maybe five minutes. The Hurricane crowd made one first down just before the last whistle when new life seemed to have been injected into it. But when Boys' High did tighten and show ability to stop hard-chased Thomason, Mayhew, Clinkscales and Parshall, Tech High had rolled up 69 points and had made 25 first downs. The last stand of the Hurricane was great, inspiring, and it was the only time that Tech High was actually forced to punt.

After all, though, the scrap was between Thomason and McLesky. It was the business of the game. We saw two young gridders of their caliber go through. Thomason had the edge, but he should have had it for there's some difference between being able to pick your hole wherever you want it and chasing all over an acre of real estate to get a fellow whose first thought is to get away from you.

Red Stopped 'Em.

The only times Tech carriers were held or thrown for losses, this red-headed tackler who held forth at Boys' High left end was in the thick of it. His game marked him as probably the outstanding defensive player of the prep roster, just as Thomason's performance has marked him as the prep ground gainer of the high school boys.

Beyond being practically helpless against the Spithies backfield men when they had the ball, Boys' High looked rather sloppy. The Hurricane men couldn't gain at all except in that great last scrap and there were two or three fumbles right where Tech High wanted to get the ball.

Stumpy Thomason's first touchdown came within the first three or four minutes of play. Vasson kicked off for Boys' High and in four plays, with Randolph carrying the ball in three, Tech High made its first down. Not knowing the strength of the purple-clad boys, the Techmen kicked after Thomason was held and Randolph made only two yards. The first fumble came on the punt when the ball wobbled down through his arms. Holland recovered and with two more first downs, Stumpy took the ball seven yards and over. He missed the try for point when there was a poor snap from center, but it was the only try in the ten that he did miss all afternoon.

Randolph Hurt.

Randolph, Tech High, fullback, was hurt and had to leave the field shortly after this touchdown was made, but Mayhew, who went in, wasn't any less trouble to the opposition.

There was considerable running and line-smashing done before Tech High scored again, but in that running and crashing, Thomason was always in the lead in ground-gaining. Once he got away on first down for 23 yards. One pass was worked right in here from Thomason to Rosenblatt. It gained eight yards.

Again it was Thomason who ate up the distance between the line of scrimmage and Boys' High's goal, this time with a 15-yard run. His placement kick made the score 13 to 0.

Now this all sounds very drab and monotonous, but if you had seen this Thomason boy hesitate a second, pick his hole and dart through, knocking off half a dozen would-be tacklers, you'd appreciate him just as we do.

Thomason, Mayhew and Parshall had things their own way for another stretch and then in the second quarter "Stumpy's" 10-yard dash through left tackle as the biggest gain. Parshall finally bucked it over from the two yard line—and Stumpy kicked goal from placement.

A Superline Star.

There was one time in the game when Thomason didn't have a thing in the world to worry him. There wasn't another member of the Tech High outfit who wasn't being worried by the Hurricane most of the time, but when you talk about "Stumpy" you're talking about something different from the above-the-ordinary player. He's one of those superline stars.

McLesky and McClure, a young Tech High line lanky, got into some kind of an argument on one play and Carpenter, umphing, yanked both of them. With McLesky out, Stumpy lighted out 55 yards around left end, cutting back every ten, to cross the Hurricane goal.

Rosenblatt was the shining light of Tech High's next touchdown, although he didn't carry the ball over. Just after Tech High's fifteenth first down, Rosenblatt took the ball through left tackle for a 50-yard run that was spoiled at Boys' High's 10-yard line by the Hurricane safety man. Thomason carried it over.

Another Boys' High fumble brought Tech High its next touchdown. Parshall kicked off 40 yards to the Boys' High team and in a general scramble down on that end of the lot, the ball slipped out of the pile of pants and jerseys and Tech High recovered on the Hurricane's 18-yard line. Clinkscales failed to gain. Thomason ran 17 yards on an off-tackle play and Parshall carried it over. That makes the score 41 to 0.

Same Old Story.

Boys' High had a little time just afterward to play around with the ball, but wouldn't do anything worth while and Vasson punted. It was the same old story when Tech High got the ball again. Clinkscales knocked off 11 yards for a first down and then Stumpy made his greatest run in a day, 65 yards down the field, and in that run knocked off just about every man on the Boys' High team as one after another tried to tackle him. He was standing up as he crossed the goal line.

Clinkscales made a pretty run of 30 yards for the next touchdown after the whole Tech High backfield had spent a few minutes running through the Hurricane line.

Again Boys' High got the ball for a few plays, but it didn't do it in its own territory when Morris recovered for Tech High on Boys' High's 20-yard line when Vasson's punt was blocked. From there, the Tech High backfield planned right on down in three and four-yard bucks and runs to another touchdown.

Parshall scored the last touchdown, just before the tightening of the Hurricane defense after a series of plays that brought three first downs in quick succession. As usual Stumpy made most of the gains to the final touchdown.

TY COBB'S LIFE STORY

Ty's Debut—1,200 Fans See It—A Nervous Substitute—Two Strikes and a Hit.

BY H. G. SALSINGER.

Near the end of the 1905 season Augusta was still asking Detroit to select a player. The Detroit club was considering the matter. The club did not want Cotte. He was too small. Eagle looked fairly good, but he was not speedy enough. And then someone suggested Cobb.

They had quite forgotten about Cobb. Faintly, they recalled the "nut" on the Augusta team. Yet he had a good season, and he seemed to show promise. George Leidy was recommending him strongly. Several Detroit clubs were going to put in a draft for him. Someone was sure to get him.

After several days of discussion it was decided to take Cobb. He became the property of the Detroit club for $750. A week later the draft was held. Four clubs were after Cobb. Each club was willing to pay $500 for him, the draft price. But Cobb was in Detroit by that time.

1,200 Saw His Debut. Cobb's major league debut was at Bennett park, in Detroit, on August 30, 1905. A crowd of about 1,200 saw that game, Detroit opposing New York. Dick Coker, one of the Detroit regulars, was ill and Bill Armour, manager of the Tigers, was in time, used Cobb in center field. He was fifth in the batting order, just behind "Wahoo Sam" Crawford, one of the greatest natural hitters and sluggers of all time.

Big Jack Chesbro, at the top of his splendid career, was pitching against Detroit that August day. In the first inning of that game Matty McIntyre, leading off for Detroit, drove out a two-bagger. Lindsay, next up, singled, scoring McIntyre. Schaefer sacrificed Lindsay to second. Crawford tapped weakly to the box and Chesbro threw him out. Lindsay going to third. And then walked to the plate tall, gaunt, almost gawky-looking boy, who appeared extremely nervous.

A murmur ran through the crowd. Score cards were scanned. A new-comer. Who is he? Oh, just filling in for Dick Coker.

Jack Chesbro wound up and shot a high, fast ball past Cobb. Minor league players in those days were all regarded as high ball hitters. They would bite on the high ones. Here was a minor leaguer and Chesbro used the orthodox method of major league pitchers. Cobb lunged at the ball. He missed. He had never seen a high one pitched quite so fast.

"Strike Tuh!" Cried Slik. Chesbro wound up again and pitched. This time it was a curve that broke over the plate, waist high. Cobb looked at the ball, then turned and ran. O'Laughlin, umpiring, called it "Strike tuh," as only the picturesque O'Laughlin could call a second strike.

Once more Chesbro wound up. He figured he had the batter's number. Another high fast one is what he would expect. Chesbro would cross him up. He would pitch a fast one he would expect.

The ball did not pass the plate. Cobb met it. He "got shold of it." Out in center field, Hahn took one look at the ball, then turned and ran forward. Cobb, streaking to first, feneared sharply and without apparently lessening his stride in making the turn, headed for second. He slid into the bag safely. Cobb had successfully launched his major-league career.

Cobb's Advantage. Cobb was fortunate enough to have an advantage when he joined the Detroit team. Bill Armour, the manager, had selected Cobb over Cotte and Eagle. It was Armour's holding out for Cobb, that had finally swung the vote to the boy. The owners favored Eagle. Bill Byron, the "singing" umpire, who worked in the south that season, had watched Cobb and came to the conclusion that he would make a great player. Byron and Leidy convinced Armour. Since the manager had insisted on Cobb, it was up to him to show that his judgment was correct.

If Cobb had been wished upon Armour, chances are that he could not have held his place in the lineup. The manager would have been prejudiced. The situation in Cobb's case was the reverse.

But managerial favor did not entirely make Cobb's path a smooth one. No player ever found the road rougher than did Cobb; for which his temperamental chief was to blame. It was difficult to get along with him, and he was thrust into a situation where a disposition such as his causes strife.

ANTLEY BEATS TONEY CARCI

St. Petersburg, Fla., December 2.—(Special.)—Boots Antley, Columbus, Ga., lightweight, was awarded a decision over Toney Carci, Cincinnati, in their 10-round bout here tonight. Carci proved to be the toughest opponent Antley has ever met in the ring here. Ben Ray, Columbus, Ga., featherweight, knocked out Joe Blanco, Tampa, in the fifth round of their

ROCHESTER CLUB TRAINS AT SAVANNAH

Savannah, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—The Rochester, N. Y. ball team will again train in Savannah next spring, it is today announced by a local syndicate composed of prominent business men which has underwritten the necessary plan to bring them to this city. Other teams also will be sought for training here.

TOUGH CAGE SCHEDULE FOR BEARS

Macon, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—With official basketball practice to start Wednesday, Coach Tink Gillam reports that a death of material faces the bear quintet. "Crook" Smith, has lately returned from an Atlanta hospital where he was sent with injuries after the Oglethorpe grid scrap, and the doctors say he may not play until after Christmas. "Buncie" Skinner, the likeliest candidate brought over from last year's freshman, has just undergone an operation and will not be permitted to enter practice for more than a month.

The eligibility rules bid are to take another pair who might have been assured of varsity berths. "Rusty" Lawrence, a main stay of the team which took S. I. A. A. first honors last year, will, in all probability, be out the entire season, as will Wilbur Dicks, an old Lanier high acquisition.

With this five out of the running, only "Red" Simmons, Sid Ellison and Cecil Caden are left of the lettermen, while from the freshman ranks will come Greene, Long, Parks, Tipton and King Dunn.

These are untried in varsity basketballing, and Coach Tink expressed doubt as to their reliability. Despite the gloomy prospects for a team, Mercer's schedule is the most ambitious of many seasons, being an outgrowth of the championship which the Orange and Black five took in the association's tournament in Macon last year.

This year's schedule opens during the holidays with a flying trip through the northwest when the Chicago, Notre Dame, North Western, Indiana and Louisville universities and Center college are to be met. Upon returning home, Furman will be played in Macon, Tech in Atlanta, Chattanooga, Vanderbilt, and Tech in Macon.

There is possibility of a trip through the west also, and two games are pending with Auburn, and others with Georgia, Florida, Albany Y and the Atlanta Athletic club.

Alamo No. 2—Ralph Lewis in "The Mailman."

Palace Theater—"Uninvited Guest," "Broken Wing."

Tender Theater—"Sherlock, Jr.," with Buster Keaton.

Alpha Theater—"Reckless Age."

"Worldly Goods."

(At the Rialto.)

After chasing Agnes Ayres through seven reels in an attempt to induce her to marry him, Pat O'Malley waited three years for another chance.

The chance came during the making of "Worldly Goods," the new Paramount picture starring Miss Ayres, at the Rialto. This time O'Malley wins and marries her in the second reel.

Vaudeville.

(Keith's Forsyth.)

Audiences at Keith's Forsyth theater are finding a highly delightful diversion in the act of Gail Rini Sisters and company, which is headlining the program of vaudeville for the first three days of this week.

The chance came during the making of "Worldly Goods," the new Paramount picture starring Miss Ayres, at the Rialto. This time O'Malley wins and marries her in the second reel.

Also the program includes four other good acts.

"Barbara Frietchie."

(At the Metropolitan.)

"Barbara Frietchie," at the Metropolitan theater. Lovely Florence Vidor has the title role and Edmund Lowe is seen opposite her as Captain Will Trumbull. The large and notable supporting cast includes Emmet King, Louis Fitzroy, Gertrude Short, Joe Bennett, Charles Delaney and others.

"Seventh Heaven."

(At the Atlanta Theater.)

There will be a matinee and night performance of "7th Heaven" today at the Atlanta theater, where the stirring dramatic production will continue for the balance of the week.

"7th Heaven" is the outstanding success of the dramatic stage. It is an exceptional play, and is a striking blend of the sordid and sublime. Its characters are taken from the under-world of Paris, always fascinating to the laymen and to theatergoers today.

It is a play of intense situations that play upon the heart-strings with sledge-hammer blows.

Musical Comedy.

(At the Lyric.)

"A Punctured Romance" has been giving Lyric theater patrons a real treat this week with clever acting, singing, dancing, pretty costumes and striking settings. It is the best thing by all odds that the Loie Bridge Players Musical Comedy company has during its Atlanta engagement.

"Eyes" is the center of the show, with the chorus and all the principals, "Dutch Lady," with the chorus in wooden shoes and Dutch garb, a Pierrot waltz, sung by Alvin Karpis, and an interpretative dance of real artistic merit, by two charming members of the chorus. Loie Bridge's comedy number and several others are drawing repeated encores. Alvin Karpis's famous Players orchestra supplies the musical background with a dash that sends audiences away humming tunes and snapping fingers.

"Lasses' White's Minstrels."

(Coming to the Atlanta.)

The fifth annual visit of "Lasses' White's Minstrels" to Atlanta is being met with a great deal of interest. The company is headed by the great comedian, Harry Miller, and his band of expert burnt cork entertainers, numbering 40, is underlined for an engagement of three nights and a matinee starting next Monday at the Atlanta theater. Ever since the "Smarter Set" they put on "Come Along Mandy" in top style.

The New Orleans showing was a knockout and the show was stopped at nearly every number. Seats are now selling at the theater and are going fast. The theater box office opens at 10 a. m. at 81 Decatur street. Phone 1154. Prices 75c, $1, $1.50. Get yours today.

Loew's Vaudeville.

(At Loew's Grand.)

The "Review of Reviews," a snappy song and dance fantasia, is the headline attraction at Loew's Grand theater this week. It is a spectacular and fantastic achievement with one of the prettiest choruses seen in Atlanta in some time. The latitudes and dance hits are presented with a touch of comedy running through the revue, making it an offering that is sure to please. Harry Miller and Peggy Fears, in "Modern Youth" are another feature of the week's bill.

Charles F. Semon is an eccentric musician and comedian and is stopping every show with his unusual act. Two other splendid acts and the feature photoplay, "Along Came Ruth," starring Viola Dana, completes the bill.

Marion Davies.

(At the Howard.)

"Yolanda," which is said to be the most stupendous motion picture which Miss Davies has yet essayed, is the attraction at the Howard. In magnificent, romance of story, swift dramatic action and historical accuracy it is said to excel Miss Davies' epoch-making "When Knighthood Was in Flower." "Yolanda" is the last word in picture entertainment.

Britain Stirred by Report Of Leniency Toward France

London, December 2.—In palaces and slums, in servants' quarters and masters' salons, British and French reagent the suggestion that France may be given more favorable debt-funding terms than were accorded Great Britain.

From Land's End to John O'Groats, British citizens are anxiously following the reports emanating from Washington and Paris that the French plan to deal with more leniently than her neighbor across the channel. It is not a detached, academic interest, but an intensely personal one, based by the fires of the grievance which will be Britain's if she is penalized for the thrift and business honor that respectively made it possible and compelled her to arrange to retire her debts.

Premier Baldwin's conservative government would be forced automatically to protest if France receives better terms than Baldwin himself obtained in Washington in 1922.

Would Be Blown.

American leniency toward France would be a serious peril to Baldwin. Not only would Baldwin protest to America that Great Britain, as a friendly government, had been discriminated against, but his government probably would be obliged to revise the present policy regarding the French debt to Great Britain. This sum amounts to more than $3,000,000,000.

FURTHER ECONOMY URGED BY COOLIDGE

amount available this current fiscal year. These figures do not include nonmilitary items of the war and navy departments. This reduction is made in accordance with my belief that we can have adequate national defense with a more modest outlay of taxpayers' money. Further study may point the way to additional reduction without weakening our national defense, but rather perfecting it. This nation is at peace with the world. We no longer have international competition in naval construction of major units. We are concerned primarily with maintaining adequate preparedness. We should have adequate preparedness in 1925 within the limits of the amount recommended.

Aside from the important factor of training personnel, our national defense is largely an industrial problem. Today the outstanding weakness in the industrial situation as it affects national defense is the inadequacy of facilities to supply air service needs. The airplane industry in this country at the present time is dependent almost entirely upon government business.

Strengthens National Defense.

"To strengthen this industry is to strengthen our national defense. For the air service of the army and navy, and the air mail service, the estimates, including contract authorizations, amount to $28,445,000. This amount is $28,445,000 for the procurement of airplanes, engines and accessories. The remaining $20,635,000 is for maintenance, operation, and research. The amount of $28,445,000, however, does not include all that will be available for this service in 1925. Amounts contributing to the air service, and unable war supplies, will make a total available conservatively estimated at $65,000,000.

The amount requested for national defense includes $50,118,000 for the army and navy reserves, national guard, citizens military training camps and other civilian training activities.

Navy Increased $7,441,000.

"There is also included in the national defense estimates $7,441,000 for increase of the navy. This will provide for continuing work on the fleet submarines under construction and for beginning work on two of the four remaining fleet submarines authorized in the 1916 program. With regard to the navy estimates, legislation is pending which provides for additional vessels, including gunboats for use on the Yangtze river. Further estimates for increase in the navy are dependent upon the enactment of this legislation. It will also be necessary to request of congress legislation increasing the authorized cost of the two submarine carriers now under construction. If this be granted, it will require funds for the next fiscal year not provided in the estimates contained in this budget.

"For rivers and harbors, $56,237,000 is recommended. In this is included $40,000,000 for maintenance and improvement of the Mississippi river and harbor works, $10,500,000 for flood control on the Mississippi and Sacramento rivers, and $5,737,000 for the operation and maintenance of canals and the removal of wrecks and other obstructions. Of the $40,000,000 for maintenance and improvement of rivers and harbors, $21,973,915 is for new work and $17,241,575 is for maintenance. This will make possible material progress on the important projects approved by congress.

"It is estimated that $6,541,590 will be needed to complete Dam No. 2 at Muscle Shoals. Of this amount, $3,501,200 will be required this year. This will be covered by a supplemental estimate for 1925. The balance, $3,040,390, is provided for in these estimates. "There is included in these estimates $50,000,000 to be set aside in the adjusted service certificate fund established under the world war adjusted compensation act of May 19, 1924. This is for the second payment to the fund to be made January 1, 1925. For the first payment, January 1, 1925, $100,000,000 is included in the deficiency bill now under consideration by congress. The applications from veterans so far have been below the estimated number which the records indicate as entitled to the benefits of the act. If the two appropriations recommended are made, it is estimated there will be a sufficient amount in the fund on January 1, 1926, to meet the demands of the act. Should the number of applications increase beyond what present experience indicates as probable, there will be ample time to submit a supplemental estimate for the additional amount necessary before that date.

Opposes Subsidies to States.

"For federal aid to states, the estimates provide in excess of $100,000,000. These subsidies are prescribed by law. I am convinced that the broadening of this field of activity is detrimental both to federal and state governments. Efficiency of federal operations is impaired as they relinquish and turn over to the federal government responsibilities which are rightfully theirs. I am opposed to any extension of these subsidies. My conviction is they can be curtailed with benefit to both the federal and state governments.

"For reclamation purposes I am recommending $9,777,250 for 1926.

Miss Henrietta Gazez Weds Mr. Hirschburg.

Savannah, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—Miss Henrietta Gazez, daughter of Jacob Gazez, and Julian Rich Hirschburg, of Atlanta, were married here this morning at 11:30 o'clock in the blue room of the DeSoto hotel, the ceremony being performed by Rabbi George Solomon, of this city. The best man was Mack Hirschburg, of Atlanta.

Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were the groom's parents and brothers, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Hirschburg, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hirschburg, of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Werner Byck, an uncle and aunt of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan, an uncle and aunt of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Schwartz and Richard Rich, all of Atlanta, and Miss Lydia Ryttenberg, of Sumter, S. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Hirschburg left this afternoon by automobile for Asheville, N. C., where they will be at Grove Park inn.

The bride is very attractive and has been popular with a large circle of friends since making her debut last fall. She is a graduate of the 1922 class of Smith college. Mr. and Mrs. Hirschburg will make their home in Atlanta.

Hon. Sara G. Mullhal To Be Distinguished Visitor in the City

The Honorable Sara Graham Mullhal, of New York, will arrive in Atlanta Monday, December 15, to visit Mrs. Chauncey Smith, at her home on East Eighth street. This distinguished woman is one of the most widely known figures in America and England, having been identified with the highest social life of both countries. She was appointed by the governor of New York as state commissioner for the control of narcotic drugs, and has been largely responsible for the anti-narcotic movement which has swept America. She organized the international league for the control of narcotic drugs in 1922, of which she is president, and is back of the world-wide movement organized for this purpose towards helping destroy this menace to humanity. In addition to this honor, this representative woman is a member of Mayor Hylan's auxiliary committee of women, which meets once a week, each woman having a special department under her supervision.

Miss Mullhal is the ruling and beloved spirit in the Bowery mission, and is one of the founders of the Colony club. She is called in daily conferences with the most prominent men and women in the country, her advice, influence and judgment counting as great factors. She possesses a charming personality, is cultured, aristocratic and most intellectual, and has been a favorite in the highest social circles in New York and Newport.

During her visit to Mrs. Smith she will be entertained at a series of social affairs, and will speak Monday afternoon at the Atlanta Woman's club, appearing throughout the week as the leading speaker before other civic organizations in Atlanta.

Mrs. Smith was associated with Miss Mullhal in the Bowery mission and as a fellow member of the National Arts club in New York. Mrs. Smith also served on the committee appointed by Miss Mullhal which assisted in arranging plans for the organization of the international league to suppress narcotic drugs. The first meeting was held by invitation in the ballroom of the Colony club, and Mrs. Smith was present upon that occasion.

POEMS THAT LIVE

Let me but do my work from day to day,
In field or forest, at the desk or loom.
In roaring market-place or tranquil room;
Let me but find it in my heart to say,
When vagrant wishes beckon me astray,
"This is my work; my blessing, not my doom;
Of all who live, I am the one by whom
This work can best be done in the right way."

Then shall I see it not too great, nor small,
To suit my spirit and to prove my powers;
Then shall I cheerful greet the laboring hours,
And cheerful turn, when the long shadows fall
At eventide, to play and love and rest, Because I know for me my work is best.

—Henry Van Dyke.

Never Too Busy To Be Human!

Sometimes it is possible for a business to grow so corpulent that it loses sight entirely of the little things that make service so valuable to its customers.

We try to avoid this—Our growth has not caused us to lose sight of the little courtesies and niceties of detail that are so much appreciated. You will find us just as painstaking now with a half dozen waiting, as we were when business was not quite so rushing.

Fifth District Ga. Federation Plans Interesting Legislation

The meeting of the fifth district Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs was held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. G. Hastings, on Claremont avenue, in Decatur. A directory is in the hands of the press and will be distributed among the departmental chairmen, which will greatly facilitate the work being done in the fifth district.

Mrs. J. E. Springer acted as secretary pro tem. In the absence of Miss Laura Hatfield and Mrs. Stafford Seidel. Mrs. R. T. Connally was appointed by the president to furnish the press with an account of the meeting. Sixteen clubs have recently been organized and a number of new chairmen appointed. Among them Mrs. Noel Park as chairman of junior work. The Indian scrapbook is in the keeping of Mrs. W. D. White.

The illiteracy department will be one of the outstanding features to be stressed by the fifth district, Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, during this winter.

Forestry work came in for honorable mention, as 9,000 trees have been planted by school children, as reported by Mrs. B. D. Gray, chairman. Club information may be found on the fourth floor of the Chamber of Commerce, with Miss Westbrook in charge from 1 to 3 o'clock.

Between 70 and 80 clubs federated and are urged to pay dues promptly. Stress was laid upon resolutions pertaining to child labor and the disposal of property by the husband without the signature and approval of his wife. The motion was carried that "we recommend that clubs get out a budget, directions, or a booklet to be obtained, explicitly explaining this feature, thus simplifying the general work of clubs."

It was also recommended that "we recommend election of officers in clubs covering the term of one year, be allowed the courtesy of a second term, and that these elections be held upon the same date as the state elections."

The meeting of the president's council has been postponed until after the holidays, due to be announced later. After the report of Mrs. R. Taylor Connally as chairman of memorial trees, the following motion was carried: That "we urge the enforcement of the law, against the use of the holly for commercial or ornamental purpose, especially during the Christmas season."

The observance of Arbor day, the first Friday of December, was stressed and trees planted upon that day be reported to the chairman of the memorial tree planting. The work reported by Mrs. J. D. Evans among the foreigners in this city is nothing short of phenomenal.

The fifth district is requested to remember the boys at hospital 48 at Christmas time.

Just prior to adjournment, a delicious buffet luncheon was served and an expression of appreciation was offered Mrs. H. G. Hastings for her home and hospitality on motion of Miss Rosa Woodberry.

Peachtree Garden Club To Hold Meetings.

The next meeting of the Peachtree Garden club will be held on Monday afternoon, December 15, at the home of the president, Mrs. Phinixy Calhoun, on Andrews drive.

The board of directors will meet with Mrs. Jesse Draper at her home on Cherokee avenue on Friday afternoon, December 5.

A statement from Mrs. Calhoun reports that the plants have been bought for the garden at the Home for Incurables, the charity sponsored by the Peachtree Garden club.

College Park Club To Hold Meeting.

The College Park Woman's club will hold the last regular meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon at the usual time and place, presided over by the president, Mrs. L. O. Freeman.

Mrs. B. D. Gray, chairman of education, will direct the program of the day, which will prove one of the most interesting and uplifting of the club year. Mrs. Gray is widely known in literary circles throughout the state and has for many years been actively identified with the federated club work of both state and district. She is one of the oldest and most valued members of the College Park club, having been with it since its infancy, giving to it unsparringly of her time, strength and wisdom.

Mrs. Charles J. Haden will speak on the campaign against illiteracy in Georgia.

An unusual and especially attractive program of music has been arranged by Mrs. W. W. Bateman and Mrs. Eva Thornton. Lovers of music are cordially asked to be present and enjoy this delightful feature of the occasion.

Interesting reports relative to the recent club bazar will be made by the chairmen, Mrs. Oscar Palmour, Mrs. Robert Fitzpatrick, Mrs. S. W. Jones, Mrs. L. H. Love, Mrs. D. R. Nesbitt, Mrs. W. R. Taylor, Mrs. Brad Timms, Mrs. Frank McGinnis, Mrs. B. D. Gray, Mrs. W. E. Lotzpeich, Mrs. Louise Stakely, Mrs. R. T. Adershold, Mrs. R. L. Proctor and Mrs. Charles Center.

A report will also be given of the monetary collection received as a result of the services sponsored by the club on Thanksgiving day, at which time Dr. Luke Rader preached one of the strongest and most thought-inspiring sermons ever heard in College Park. This money will be turned over to the Community Service league for use in local benevolences.

At two o'clock, prior to the regular club session, a class in citizenship will be taught by Mrs. W. L. Turman. This class is being organized under the supervision of the department of citizenship, Mrs. B. H. Sullivan, chairman.

Cincinnati Symphony Programs Announced.

Exceptional programs are announced for both concerts to be given by the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra on the afternoon and evening of December 11 at the auditorium-armory. The afternoon program has been arranged especially for young people and will attract thousands of the school children of Atlanta and vicinity, having been planned for the benefit of all children in attendance upon schools in the fifth district, both public and private. The evening program is one of great beauty, being on the high plane of musical appreciation such as has come to be demanded by Atlanta audiences.

By special request the management of the Cincinnati Symphony has arranged the matinee program almost entirely from the numbers being used in the school memory contests this year. Fritz Reiner, director of the orchestra, is particularly interested in furthering the work of children's concerts and the appreciation of the higher musical forms among children at an early age.

The program will include: March Militaire of Schubert; overture to "William Tell," Rossini; barcarolle from "Tales of Hoffman," Offenbach; selections from the Nutcracker Suite, Tchaikovsky; "To a Wild Rose," by MacDowell, arranged for orchestra by Victor Herbert, and selections from the "Peer Gynt Suite" by Grieg.

The evening program is one of rare appeal. The overture to "Der Freischutz" by Weber and the great "D Minor Symphony" of Cesar Franck—a monumental work in symphonic writing, which has been played in Atlanta only once before—make up the first half. For the second there is a light and exceedingly attractive group, arranged by Percy Grainger, including "Molly on the Shore," Irish tune from "County Kerry," and "Shepherd's Hey," then follow three Wagner numbers: March from Tannhauser, "Ride of the Valkyries," and the "Dance of the Apprentices," from "Die Meistersinger." These last and also the Cesar Franck symphony being at the special request of Music club officials.

It is anticipated that the two programs will be heard by at least ten thousand people. The children's matinee, especially, is expected to draw a record house, there being prizes offered to the schools sending the largest attendance.

Church Society Will Hold Bazar Today.

The Girls' Friendly society of St. Luke's church will hold a bazar Wednesday, December 3, at 837 Peachtree street, near Tenth.

Many beautiful and appropriate gifts for Christmas will be on sale.

D. A. R. Board Will Meet at "Wingfield."

The board of management of Atlanta chapter, D. A. R., will meet at "Wingfield," the home of Mrs. John M. Slaton, vice chairman, on Peachtree road, Thursday at 10:30 o'clock. The meeting will be presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Edwin Stewart.

The regent, Mrs. Bon Wylie, has several items of important business to bring before the board. The meeting will be followed by a luncheon.

The board is composed of the following members: Mrs. Bon Wylie, Mrs. Fletcher J. Sprattling, Mrs. James L. Logan, Mrs. Thomas H. Morgan, Mrs. Lucius W. McConnell, Mrs. Drury Powers, Mrs. Thomas C. Melt, Mrs. Bryan Wells Collier, Miss Virginia Hardin, Mrs. A. W. Hodnett, Mrs. John W. Smith, Mrs. Frances S. Whiteside, Mrs. John B. Roberts, Mrs. Charles F. Rice, Mrs. Charles A.

Social Affairs Interspersed By Interesting Weddings Today

A wedding of unusual interest, outstanding in the social affairs for today will be that of Miss Mary Frances Cooledge and John Rhodes Haverty, which will take place at the home of the bride at 8:30 o'clock in the evening.

So many lovely social affairs have crowded each day since the beginning of this unusually brilliant season that if a date is not already set, it is almost impossible to slip in the smallest party. Making these affairs most attractive are the charming group of debutantes, brides-elect and visitors who have been the inspiration for most of the entertainments. Today the hostess at the luncheon honoring Miss Lila Hinkle, of Statesboro, N. C., the guest of Miss Callie Orme, will be Mrs. Shepard Bryan. As a compliment to Miss Mary Ann Lipscomb, one of the season's most attractive debutantes, will be the tea at which Miss Erskine Jarnagin will entertain this afternoon.

Gathering fashionable society will be the beautiful reception that Mrs. Harrison Jones will give at the Piedmont Driving club, in honor of Mrs. Daniel Elkin and Mrs. B. Neal Harris this afternoon.

Miss Louise Inman, who has been entertained at innumerable charming prenuptial affairs, will be hostess at a trousseau tea this afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Frank Inman, on Peachtree road. Honoring another bride-elect will be the tea which Misses Maude and Cornelia Steedman will give this afternoon in honor of Miss Mary CLOPTON.

A group of girls attending Agnes Scott college will be honored at a bridge-ten this afternoon given by Mrs. Henry Bernard Scott at her home on Myrtle street. These lovely girls are Miss Virginia Peeler, Miss Mae Erskine Irwin, Miss Marjorie Speaks and Miss Jane Small.

Capital City Club

Announces Dances.

The house committee of the Capital City club announces a series of informal dances to be held each Tuesday evening from 10 to 12 o'clock in the grill room, beginning Tuesday, December 9, and continuing through the month of December.

Supper will be served and members not caring to dance and desiring service can be served in the tea room on first floor.

Coolidge-Haverty Rehearsal Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Powers Pace, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coolidge, Jr., entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pace on Muscogee avenue, in honor of Miss Mary Frances Cooledge, and John Rhodes Haverty whose wedding will be one of unusual interest, taking place this evening.

The house was beautifully decorated with white flowers, chrysanthemums and roses being used in lovely arrangement.

In the dining room the table was beautifully appointed, wedding suggestions being carried out in all the decorations. Every thing was in white, and in the center of the table, on a glass pedestal, was an exquisite wedding cake, beautifully frosted, with roses, and lattice effect. Crystal bud vases held white roses and the bouquets were in crystal containers. A miniature sunken garden was in the center of the table, and rising from the "make believe lake" was the pedestal holding the cake. Surrounding this dainty little garden was a tiny white trellis. At one end was a little summer house, and walking up the steps to this "love nest" were miniature figures of a bride and groom. From the chandelier were showered white roses and swainsons.

Only the members of the wedding party, and the families, were present. Mrs. Pace wore a lovely gown of black lace over black satin. Mrs. Fred Coolidge, Jr., wore a flame colored chiffon, trimmed in lace to match.

The lovely young bride-elect wore a

HOW TO SOLVE PUZZLE.
The words start in the numbered squares and run either across or down. Only one letter is placed in each white square. If the proper words are found each combination of letters in the white squares will form words. The key to the puzzle—the first word—is given in the drawing. Below are keys to the other words.

(Running Across.)
Word 1 is the missing word in what the boy is saying.
Word 3 is the writing part of a pencil.
(Running Down.)
Word 1 is what Jack and Jill carried to the well.
Word 2 is where the boys will play.
Answer Tomorrow.

SUMTER FARM AGENT RESIGNS JANUARY 1

Americus, Ga., December 2.—(Special).—Georgia O. Marshall, Sumter county's farm demonstration agent, for seven years, today tendered his resignation to the board of county commissioners at their monthly meeting. The resignation is effective January 1. No announcement has been authorized as to who will succeed him.

Marshall owns a number of farms in the county, and will devote his entire time to these interests, he stated, and later plans to enter business in Americus.

Much regret is expressed here at Marshall's resignation as work under his direction in this county has made splendid progress.

HAVEN'T you been thinking about the many good things you're going to cook for the holidays? Here's an old time favorite you can't afford to overlook: plum pudding. What a treat among a feast of good things!

Self-Rising flour will save you a lot of time and worry if you use it in your holiday bakings. To insure best results, the right amount of pure phosphate baking powder has been added to carefully milled soft wheat flour. These are mixed again and again by the most accurate and scientific methods—for this process of mixing is responsible for the rich tastiness and the fine light texture in the scores of things you can cook with self-rising flour.

It will pay you to remember that self-rising flour showing the Blue Shield on the bag is always dependable flour. It carries a money-back guarantee.

FAMOUS PLAYERS was one of the strongest stocks during today's market session, closing the competition for the day. A considerable influx of new buying has been coming into the common stock as a result of the company's annual report statement for the September quarter, which shows a record for the year. The common stock and total earnings for 1921 will probably exceed twice annual dividends requirements. The company's bond issues are being rapidly extinguished and the company's treasury position is very strong.

AMERICAN TOBACCO, after two weeks' decline, became active at rising prices. The company's new shares upon which $1 annually is paid, are being actively underpinned as compared with other stocks of equal merit.

BLUE RIBBON FICTION

SYNOPSIS.

Palmyra Tree, on board the yacht Rainbow, which is leaving the California coast for the south sea, is startled to see a silvery brown hand with a black lace mitt on it thrust through the porthole window. Palmyra is loved by two men, John Thurston and Van Shuren Ruzer. She is not certain which man she loves.

Palmyra determines to unearth the owner of that sinister hand, but tells no one her purpose. She discovers Ponape Burke, who confesses he is a stunner of coolies and opium. Burke permits her a glimpse of a savage brown man, Olive, hiding with him. Palmyra does the savage brown man a good turn.

INSTALLMENT IX.

Thurston Finds a Friend.

In a day or so the Rainbow would drop anchor at Honolulu. Two weeks should have sufficed for the passage, but—Mrs. Crawford had desired a belated landfall.

Whenever, tonight, the yacht's pace would mend—the sea being alive with phosphorus—diagonals of firefly green in the water at her bows would spread out like wings. Then, when the breeze failed, these would fall back again to her sides in little ripples and splashes of effluvia light.

When John Thurston presently joined Constance, she looked up with a frown, faintly illuminated by this fairy glow. "I was just thinking," she explained, "that Palm Tree doesn't at all realize what Capt. Kidder may be getting into his mind. I believe the little fraud's quite puffed up over the idea he's made something of a conquest."

Thurston answered rather absently. "Anyhow," he said, "Burke's over the side at Honolulu and gone forever."

She assented.

John was silent for some time. Then: "I'd like to go, too," he burst out. "I've been trying to tell you I've taken your advice; asked her to become my wife."

She was gazing at the phosphorescent sea, her chin in her hand. "Yes," she answered without moving, "I know."

"She told you?" he exclaimed.

"No. You did."

He was chagrined. "I suppose I do look like that," he said. "On the contrary. You've been splendid." She glanced up friendly.

"But I still think it was the right thing to do. A week or two hence—absolutely no hope. O, why didn't you speak in California? She originally liked you best. I'm sure of it. Does still, if she only knew. Or," Constance added ruefully, "would if they'd let her alone."

He laughed with some bitterness. "O, I know what you mean. Take those theatricals."

She nodded.

"And that light comedy part your mother assigned me!"

There was understanding in her gaze.

"I was," he cried, "as wooden as an Indian."

Unexpectedly she laughed; a laugh both of despair and of admiration for her mother's generalship. "Mamma," she said, "would think of a hundred ways of bringing out Van at his best, you at your worst. O, mamma always wins."

He fell into a sudden petulance. "I guess she's right about me being too big for the yacht." Then a moment later: "But that's what life is, isn't it? A cramped deck, a small cabin and a lot of heavy weather?"

She assented and they lapsed into silence.

"I think Palm'll reject Van, too—at first," she said finally. "And in the meantime you'll have an advantage. Whatever is petty, ugly, in a man's nature comes out when he's refused. She is, of course, watching

"What is it?"

you. She'll be roused to the keenest sympathy for you; regret, perhaps almost remorse. So, John, just keep on as you are, being your own good honest old self; deep, kind, sensible, true."

The man flushed, humble under the compliment of her sincere liking. In the silence that ensued the fitful breeze died again, and there came gliding alongside one of the man-eating sharks that infest the tropics. From his fin, as it cleft the surface like the tower of a submarine, little swirls of fire floated to set the sea in wake aflame.

When Thurston spoke again it was apparently in an effort to get into a more cheerful vein.

"Seemingly," he said, "I have another well wisher aboard."

With a pocket flashlight he made visible for her a small object of woven fiber; a bark cord wound round a packet perhaps two inches square.

"When I came on deck this morning," he explained, "Olive incarnated himself before me. Looked about furtively, jerked my coattails up, fastened this round my waist. Then he gave me a friendly grin, and vanished."

"But," she puzzled, "what is it?"

"Inside there's a bit of fine mat, seven hairs and a tooth."

"A rag, a bone and a hank of hair," she quoted.

It was, he explained, an amulet, the product of one of the savage islands. Olive, according to Burke, on coming into possession of it had bound it on in a spirit of levity. But next day the crew had been attacked and Olive escaped seemingly certain death. Naturally, the amulet had been given the credit.

"But—why?"

Thurston smiled a little sadly. "Thought I needed it, I guess. If you could see through me so easily, I dare say even he—"

"But, seriously?"

"How should I know? I believe I didn't laugh that day—you recollect?—when Burke said Olive was angry because Palm Tree asked about his tattooed name? Can't think of anything else, unless it was some tobacco."

"And Burke?"

"Says it's just one of those quick unreasoned native likings. She was thoughtful. 'At any rate,' she said finally, 'he seems to be wishing you good luck.'"

She examined the amulet again with an absent attention. Then, the smile fading from her lips: "John, promise me you will not leave the Rainbow at Honolulu."

The yacht was pushing on at her best pace, setting up such a lively stir at her prow as to achieve the small private rainbow for which she had been named.

Presently, with a faint motorlike buzz and hum of wing fins, a squadron of flying fish made straight for the craft, and two fell upon her deck.

Ponape Burke picked up one of these for Palmyra's inspection.

As she examined it he asked, with an effect somehow of being more interested than the subject warranted: "Would you think, Miss Tree, a little fish like that could kill a grown man?"

She exclaimed, incredulously.

He tossed the fish overboard; looked at his hands with some distaste. It was not the least striking peculiarity of this stowaway that he was almost fussy neat about himself and his surroundings.

"I don't mean a white man, a Christian," he explained. "A flying fish couldn't kill them, for they ain't got the power of belief. Not like the kanakas in heathen times. Panga—no! Faith could do what it liked with them. Lord, they could believe just anything."

Captain Kidder grinned amiably. "Miss Tree, anyway, she believes it."

He always found her his best listener. He had a habit of turning to her, apparently without conscious volition, at the important points. "Christianity don't seem t'ake hold like the old heathen ideas," he now went on. "Twas awful the power they had."

THE GUMPS—THE SAME TO YOU

NOW WE KNOW WHY THEY GO.

By Erma Misson.

I love to go to barber shops. And have to sit and wait. Because the sights I see in there. To me are simply great.

The men don't like to have me round. The reason is quite clear—Few men look very handsome when Perched in a barber chair.

The fat ones look so comical I scarcely hide my grins. To see the barber scrape around Their roly poly chins.

The thin ones look so stork-like Above the bibs they wear; And how bald pates nurse along A few stray locks of hair.

I often go in barber shops And spend my hard-earned kale. Because they prove that females Aren't as funny as the male!

As funny as the male!

The Sents of Hearing.

If I didn't have my ears, I couldn't hear. But on the other hand if there was no such thing as a sents of hearing our sides would only be usefull to make the sides of our face look naturall.

Nothing is worse for the sents of hearing than to get a hard slap on the ear, being a good thing to tell your mother if she gives you one, the only trouble being it mite make her so mad she mite give you another one jest to see if you are rite.

Sometimes the sents of hearing is much worse than other times, especially erly in the morning wen you are being called to get up for skool.
